MAY HAVE TO AMEND TWO TREATIES

Senate Committee Objects to French and British Conventions

REALLY BUT ONE OBSTACLE

This Regards Power Given Joint Committee—Wants Quick Action

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Friends of the British and French treaties in the senate have reached the conclusion that it will be necessary to amend the conventions to get favorable action upon them. This conclusion is the result of the consideration of documents by the senate on foreign relations which has taken them up in vigorous fashion.

After two prolonged sittings the committee adjourned late today. Meetings were devoted to the consideration of the documents on their merits, the first being with Secretary Knox and the second by the members themselves without the secretary's aid.

No effort was made to have the treaties reported, and it became extremely doubtful to some of the friends of the administration whether such a course would be wise at present, as objections have been made to some features of the agreement, they now appear.

Special objection was made at both sittings to the provision submitting questions of difference to the joint high commission of inquiry, but fault was also found with the provision in the French treaty authorizing ratification by that government in accordance with the procedure required by the laws of France, and with the condition in the British treaty that matters affecting dependencies of Great Britain shall be submitted to the government of that dependency.

Fear Undesirable Complications.

It was thought the latter clause tends to undesirable complications, while it was feared that the former might necessitate a change in the method of proceeding in this country.

Despite all these objections it became evident however, that the power conferred on the joint commission is the only real obstacle to hearty action. Several senators expressed unalterable opposition to this provision, and more than one suggestion was made that the paragraph should be eliminated or at least materially modified. No motion was made to this effect, but it is held that a vote if probably would have carried. The magnitude of the extent of this criticism will be brought to the president's attention and some senators will urge the cancellation of the provision.

At the afternoon session a suggestion of the morning meeting that the whole question be postponed until December took the shape of a motion to that effect. It was made by Senator Clarke of Arkansas, but was withdrawn upon a general expression of opposition.

In this connection the friends of the treaties received the greatest encouragement that was given them during the day. Many members of the committee expressed themselves as friendly to the general proposition involved in the treaties, and some went so far as to say that with a few changes it might be possible to get favorable action during the present session, especially if it should be prolonged to any extent.

SEVERE STORM IN IOWA

WATERLOO, Ia., Aug. 9.—One of the worst storms experienced here in years struck this city tonight. A heavy rain fell, flooding the streets. Lightning set fire to many buildings. The fire department has been kept busy throughout the night, answering alarms. Telephone and telegraph wires are down and street car service is at a standstill.

PHILANTHROPIST DIES

DENVER, Aug. 9.—Frank A. Burr, well known for his charities, died today at his home in this city.

SAY PROPOSED STRIKE IS TO SHOW LABOR STRENGTH

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Railroad officials today declared that the strike which threatens western railroads is being planned as a demonstration of strength by the railroad department of the American Federation of Labor.

The railroad department of the American Federation of Labor was organized four years ago. It is said to have a membership of nearly 30,000 comprising shopmen and telegraphers of the railroads.

The union of the Harriman line in refusing a wage increase, it is said, will be followed by the heads of other railroads. The informal conference between western railroad officials, on the subject of the strike are being continued.

PERKINS NOT TO ANSWER QUERY

INQUIRY AS TO CAMPAIGN FUND DROPPED

Steel Committee Given Access to Bureau of Corporations—Evidence

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—George W. Perkins, director of the United States Steel corporation and former partner of J. P. Morgan & Co., was not ordered before the bar of the house today by the house committee on inquiry into the affairs of the steel corporation. Neither will he be.

After a heated executive session of the committee in which was discussed the refusal of Mr. Perkins to answer a suggestive line of questions regarding contributions of corporations to campaign funds, the committee reached an understanding whereby all threats were waived.

At the outset the committee was induced by Representative Littleton to reconsider the action of yesterday in which the chair was sustained in ordering that the witness answer questions as to his personal campaign contributions.

After this was done a plan was agreed upon as to just what questions regarding campaign contributions should be asked and it was understood that Richard Lindbergh, counsel for the steel corporation, would declare that he knew of one contribution of $10,000 made by the corporation to a campaign fund in 1904. This he afterwards stated before the committee and thereupon the political phase of the inquiry apparently was dropped.

Question Not Admissible.

When the executive session of the committee was ended, Mr. Perkins was called for by Chairman Stanley. Representative Littleton, upon the arrival of Mr. Perkins, began a statement relating how he had been absent on the previous day when Mr. Perkins had been asked to what extent he had made contributions to campaign funds after he became connected with the steel corporation.

"Upon the admissibility of this evidence," said Mr. Littleton, "a vote was taken and it was held to be legal to ask such questions. I have examined thoroughly the resolution of the house under which this committee was appointed and after much discussion and consideration I have made up my mind that any question to any witness as to his personal campaign contributions is not admissible under this resolution, unless it can be shown that such contributions were made with the understanding that the contributor was to be reimbursed by the steel corporation."

As to the question put yesterday relating to the difference of the method of keeping records between the United States Steel corporation and the New York Life Insurance company, that matter is still pending. Representative Beall, under the direction of the committee, will continue to interrogate the witness and I wish it understood that I will meet future questions as they come to me.

Asks About Insurance Company.

Representative Bartlett of Georgia, a Democrat, is reported to have stood by Mr. Littleton in his view of this question.

When Mr. Beall restated the question as to the New York Life Insurance company, Mr. Perkins did not answer and an answer from him was not insisted upon. Instead Richard W. Lindbergh, counsel for the United States Steel corporation, said:

"I wish to say that I am as unalterable in my opinion relating to some questions as is the chairman in his. I do not object to questions as to campaign contributions of the steel corporation, but I do object to any inquiry into the practice of the New York Life Insurance company as to campaign contributions."

In 1904 the United States Steel corporation contributed $10,000 to a political campaign, whether for a state or national campaign I do not remember. I will look up the records of this and of any other contributions and submit them to the committee. This

GEN. GEORGE GORDON DEAD

MEMPHIS, Aug. 9.—Gen. George W. Gordon, commander in chief of the United Confederate Veterans and a member of congress died at his home here today. His illness dated from his last political campaign, when he was reelected to the national house of representatives, the last general of the Confederacy to serve in that body.

He was born in Giles county, Tenn., October 1, 1836. He saw much service in the Civil war. In 1865 he was connected with the federal department of the interior. He was elected a member of the Sixtieth congress from the Tenth district and reelected to the Sixty-first and Sixty-second congresses. General Gordon was chosen commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans at the reunion of 1910 at Mobile, Ala., and was retired last May.

Immediately after the close of his last political campaign General Gordon's health began to fail. As he was in a severe form attacked him, uraemia developed and in his weakened condition he could not withstand the complications.

TWO OVATIONS FOR TOGO

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 9.—Baltimore and Philadelphia vied with each other in giving Admiral Togo an enthusiastic welcome today. After five hours of public receptions, tours through steel works and foundries, a cruise of Chesapeake bay and a maroon automobile trip through the city of Baltimore, the Japanese naval commander arrived in this city on a private car at 5 o'clock tonight.

Thousands of people crowded the station and many more lined Broad street as the admiral and his suite, in two automobiles, were escorted by a squad of mounted police to the hotel. On the city hall was a large "Welcome Togo" sign.

Tonight Admiral Togo rested, his program calling for an evening's respite for the first time in several days.

On his way to Philadelphia, however, the admiral expressed great pleasure at his reception at Baltimore, and said he was impressed with what he saw at the steel works there. The Japanese stood before scores of hot furnaces and watched workmen cast a number of steel rails, being taken around the plant on a flat car drawn by a yard locomotive.

Tomorrow he will see some of Philadelphia's industries, visiting the shipyards and plants along the riverfront. He also will inspect the navy yard.

LOSS IN CORN AND WHEAT

The weather during July caused a fall in the condition of corn which indicates a loss of 336,000,000 bushels from the estimated total production of the previous month.

Spring wheat fell from a condition a month ago of 16 per cent below the average to approximately 27 per cent below the average, indicating a loss of about 35,888,000 bushels. The indications of the total yield of wheat per acre are the lowest since 1904.

The oats crop is very short, according to the figures of today's report. It has been smaller three times, and larger seven times during the last 10 years. The crop of hay probably will be the smallest yet in 15 years. The total yield of potatoes indicated has been less than this year's crop only twice in the last 10 years. It is regarded as unlikely, however, that the late planted crop, on account of recent rains may increase the total estimated production. The condition this month indicates a loss of about 35,848,000 bushels from last month's estimated yield.

Conditions in the tobacco growing states during July were such as to reduce the estimated total yield of last month by almost 24,000,000 pounds.

While the crops in many instances, probably, will be short in the yield per acre, yet in total production they will not be small, as shown by the following estimates of the yields of the standard crops:

Corn, 2,820,221,000 bushels; winter wheat, 455,149,000 bushels; spring wheat, 209,544,000 bushels; barley, 139,352,000 bushels; potatoes, 249,893,000 bushels; tobacco, 600,588,000 pounds; and hay, 48,129,000 tons.

ON LONG TOUR TO STUDY INDIAN AT FIRST HAND

DENVER, Aug. 9.—The Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Douglas, accompanied by Miss Anne Evans, left yesterday for an extended tour of four weeks in Arizona and New Mexico, where they will study the Indians in their native environments.

Mr. Douglas, who is an Episcopal minister, is a noted anthropologist and naturalist. Mrs. Douglas was previously to her marriage, a physician and a student of nature. Miss Evans is a prominent society woman in Denver and a student of nature and ethnology.

The party will attend the August festival of the different tribes through southern Arizona and study the native dances and ceremonies. Mr. Douglas, who is also a musician of no mean ability, is interesting himself in the Indian songs and lyrics.

The snake dances and the skeleton dances of the Indians are given during the month of August to celebrate the harvest feast. There will afford valuable opportunity for the study of the music as well as the forms of dancing.

CONSUL ROSSI TO MONTREAL

DENVER, Aug. 9.—Adolpho Rossi, Italian consul general in Denver, received official notice from Rome yesterday of his transfer to the consulate of Montreal. He will be succeeded in Denver by Grete Da Vella, who has just given up his position as consul in Tien Tsin, China, and who will arrive in Denver some time next month. Mr. Da Vella, who is 40 years old, is one of the youngest men in the Italian consular service. Prior to his appointment as consul in Tien Tsin, China, which occurred in 1908, he was vice consul in Montevideo.

Vice Consul Roberto Ferrari of Denver will not be transferred.

CROP REPORT WORST IN YEARS

Shows Tremendous Decline in Condition Throughout Entire Country

DUE TO HEAT AND DROUGHT

Experts Look for Improvement, However, Account of Recent Rains

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—A tremendous decline in the condition of crops, general throughout the country and traceable to drought and intense heat, occurred last month, as indicated by official figures and estimates made today in the monthly crop report of the department of agriculture.

The report today is the worst as to general crop conditions that the department has issued for any single month since 1901. The area most seriously affected extends from New York and Pennsylvania westward to the Rocky mountains, embracing the great corn, wheat and hay producing states in the country.

In the southern states with the exception of Virginia and North Carolina, ample rains served to maintain generally favorable conditions. These conditions thus far continue to be favorable. Conditions in the Pacific northwest are regarded as excellent, although during July that territory suffered from a brief but excessively hot period. The figures in today's report indicate a material slump in the prospects of all crops. Corn, which at this season is the most important, declined during the month from a condition of about five per cent below the average as indicated by the July report to nearly 15 per cent below the average. In some states it fell off in condition nearly 20 per cent. This does not indicate, however, that the crop will not be large because the acreage of corn this year is exceptionally heavy.

The condition of the crop at this time indicates a yield per acre smaller than in any year since 1901, although the indicated total production has been exceeded in only five years in the history of the country. It is pointed out that the deterioration in the crop was checked somewhat by rains during the latter part of July. Experts incline to the opinion that the crop may be further improved by the generous rains of the last week.

POPE PIUS SHOWING SOME IMPROVEMENT

ROME, Aug. 9.—Pope Pius early tonight enjoyed several hours rest in his new room on the third floor of the Vatican, to which he was moved yesterday from his small bedroom on the fourth floor. The room is more spacious and airy and the change seems to have revived the pope's strength somewhat and cheered his spirits.

When Doctors Petacci and Marchiafava visited his holiness in the early evening his temperature was 101 but at midnight, after he had perspired profusely, it fell below 100. The rains in the knee also diminished and his holiness was able to obtain some refreshing sleep.

The efforts of the physicians now will be toward restoring fully the strength of the pope, fearing that otherwise there may be a fresh complication of throat and bronchial trouble.

Eight years ago today great throngs gathered at the Vatican to greet and venerate the newly elected pontiff at the moment of his coronation. Today, however, owing to the illness of the pope, only a few of the cardinals, members of the diplomatic corps and members of society were present in the Sistine chapel where a mass was said in honor of the anniversary.

Prostrate in his bed of sickness, the pope is reported to have said that although absent he was there in spirit.

WILL FILE DAMAGE SUIT FOR $20,000

Mrs. Jones to Sue Pawnbroker Who Sold Cartridges to Her 9-Year-Old Son.

M. K. Myers, an East Hiawatha street pawnbroker, is named as the defendant in a damage suit for $20,000 which attorneys for Mrs. Mary Jones say will be filed in the district court today. The complaint has been prepared by the law firm of Purcell and Burns, and in it Myers is charged with having "carelessly and negligently" sold revolver cartridges to DeWayne Eccleford, her 9-year-old son.

The boy shot himself twice on July 25, according to the complaint, at his home, 816 South Teton street, one bullet maiming the index finger of his right hand and the other piercing his abdomen and passing through the stomach.

Through the carelessness of Myers, it is charged, the boy was severely and permanently injured to the extent of $20,000. To date, Mrs. Jones' surgeon and hospital bills amount to $650.

The complaint alleges that the boy went to Myers' store and asked that he sell him some cartridges commonly known as 22's. Notwithstanding the youth of the purchaser, Myers, it is charged, made the sale. Subsequently the boy shot himself and, according to his mother's opinion, is permanently injured.

There is a popular belief that Colorado Springs has an ordinance forbidding the sale of loaded cartridges to children, but an examination of the laws at the city hall yesterday failed to disclose such a measure.

The action probably will be based on the statutes of Colorado.

DOCK WORKERS' STRIKE THREATENS TO SPREAD

LONDON, Aug. 9.—The board of trade and other conferences up to a late hour tonight had failed to arrange terms with the striking dock workers and trouble is likely to extend to tomorrow. In the Thames, 150 vessels are tied up and every market is disorganized.

The police mounted and on foot are being employed in large numbers but have much difficulty in keeping order. They made many charges with clubs tonight on disorderly gatherings.

Because of a shortage of gasoline the third of London's motor business will be unable to leave the garages tomorrow.

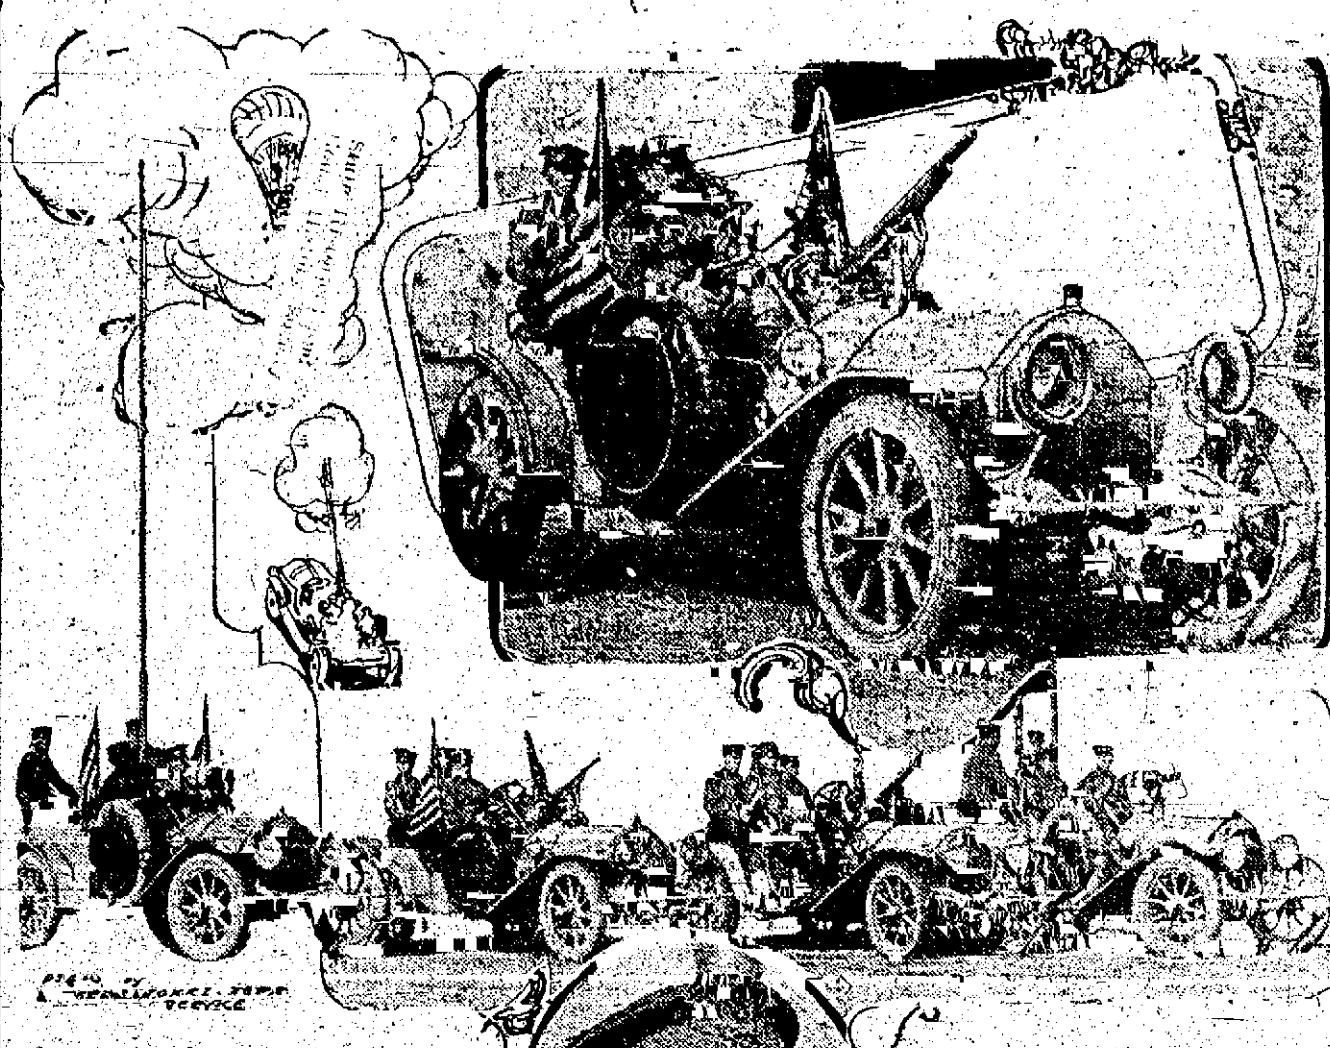

There were rumors tonight that the railway trainmen and the county tramway men would join the strike tomorrow. Home Secretary Churchill says he will take no further action on the strike beyond authorizing the police to preserve order.

ASKS STATE TO BUY IRRIGATION BONDS

DENVER, Aug. 9.—The state land board and the state agricultural board will meet at the capitol the latter part of this week to investigate a proposition to invest $12,500 of the state school funds in the Montezuma irrigation district.

In the Montezuma district there are 250 miles of ditches and a reservoir and with the new bond issue there will be a total indebtedness of $100,000. The district embraces an area of 1,000. The district embraces an area of 1,000. The district embraces an area of 1,000.

E. J. Smith, secretary of the district, asks the state to purchase $12,500 of the last issue of $100,000 of bonds in return for which the district will supply the 5,000 acres of state land with water, thus greatly enhancing the value of the state land.

J. LEE FINNEY ONLY VICTIM

Filled With American Guests Who Escape, Some in Only Scant Attire

LONDON, Aug. 9.—J. Lee Finney, the American actor, perished today in a fire which destroyed a part of the Carlton hotel, where he was a guest. The body was found in the bathroom adjoining Mr. Finney's room on the fifth floor of the annex.

The fire was as badly checked that the fire was very manageable. Apparently Mr. Finney had gone into the bathroom to take a bath and was asphyxiated.

This death was the only one resulting from the fire, which, however, was attended by exciting scenes and considerable loss to the building through fire and water.

A large number of American guests escaped from the hotel but lost their baggage.

The Carlton is one of London's fashionable hotels and many Americans are staying in its guests.

Of the 300 persons stopping at the hotel when the fire started, many were from the United States and all had narrow escapes.

The fire burned for two and a-half hours but was confined mainly to that part of the hotel adjoining His Majesty's theater and the fifth and sixth floors, which were gutted.

Part of the roof also was destroyed by the fire, but work by firemen saved the hotel and theater.

Most Damage From Water.

Lines of hose were dragged up all the stairways and tons of water was poured into the upper rooms. Damage from water is greater than that done by the fire. Most of the interior of the building was thoroughly soaked. The manager says the hotel is not badly damaged and will resume business immediately.

The alarm was sounded at 7 o'clock while most of the guests were dressing for dinner. The blaze started in the elevator shaft by the fusing of an electric wire.

Firemen arrived quickly and ran up their ladders and rescued a number of persons from the upper windows, were shaking to the excited crowds below for help. They also carried out two invalid guests.

The upper floor where most of the damage by the fire was done, was given over mostly to servants' quarters. Comparatively few of the guests lost their baggage.

The salvage corps removed trunks and bags and piled them in the streets. Thousands of persons stood in the streets and watched the fire. The Haymarket, across the street from the hotel, was compelled to cancel this performance on account of the fire. His Majesty's theater was closed.

Flee in Scanty Attire.

Many Americans who had been staying at the Carlton fled for home on the Olympia today, but incoming steamers had brought new guests and a majority of the 200 in the hotel were Americans. Most of the guests had returned to the hotel after a round of strolling to dress for dinner. The alarm caught them in every condition of undress.

A. W. Pratt of New York with his wife occupied a room on the top floor. Mrs. Pratt, 50 years old, and Miss Jessie Gardner of Chicago had just arrived at the hotel from Oxford. They were removing the dust of travel from their clothes when the cry of fire came. They had just time to leave their rooms in the scantiest of attire and leave their luggage which the porters had only a moment before deposited in their rooms.

James R. Keene, the widely known New York financier and horseman was one of the coolest victims of the fire. He was sitting in his room when the alarm sounded and calmly walked down stairs, lighting a cigar and then stood on the sidewalk and watched the fire.

PERKINS NOT TO ANSWER

contribution Mr. Perkins knows nothing about.

Then that obviates the necessity of further questions in that regard," said Representative Beall.

Mr. Perkins said he never had expectations of reimbursement from anybody.

During the noon recess, Representative Stanley, Representative Sterling and Littleton called on President Taft at the White house and gained his permission for the expert of the steel committee to have access to the evidence not yet made public gathered by the bureau of corporations relating to the steel company.

Following the disposition of the campaign question, Mr. Beall led Mr. Perkins again into the financial panic. Mr. Beall asked Mr. Perkins if he remembered an interview in the New York Times in which he was quoted as having said "The chief sorcerer" in the panic was the Trust Company of America. Mr. Perkins did not recall having given such an interview, but he said he had talked consistently to newspaper men during that period.

Mr. Beall asked if he had ever attempted to justify the interview by explaining the "business interest" was centered upon the Knickerbocker Trust company and the Trust Company of America, all the banks would be involved. Mr. Perkins said that he talked to Mr. Stone frequently during the panic but that he had attempted to justify anything that he had not done, he said, was impossible.

Perkins Produces Statement.

Mr. Beall questioned Mr. Perkins concerning the conversion plan whereby $200,000,000 of preferred stock was converted into $250,000,000 of second mortgage five per cent bonds. The witness produced a statement he had prepared on that subject. He explained that money was needed shortly after the organization of the corporation to carry on improvements of the subsidiary companies and that it was impossible to use money out of the surplus for this purpose.

Mr. Perkins, in his statement said: "It was finally found impossible to secure a pledge of the entire $200,000,000 of preferred stock, but that the best that could be done was to organize a syndicate that would agree to the following:

"Second—Agree to exchange all of this, or only 40 per cent of it, at the option of the steel corporation, for second mortgage bonds.

"Third—Take second mortgage bonds from the steel corporation at par in exchange for $20,000,000 in cash.

Provided 4 Per Cent Commission.

"For this the steel corporation was to allow said syndicate 4 per cent commission on all the bonds it took in exchange for stock and 4 per cent commission on all the bonds it took at par for cash, so that if the transaction stood in the end in that form viz: If $80,000,000 of bonds were issued for stock and $20,000,000 of bonds were issued for cash, the steel corporation would have paid to the syndicate 4 per cent on $100,000,000 or $4,000,000 and J. P. Morgan and company would have received for guaranteeing the whole $100,000,000 for handling the syndicate and the securities and for finding a market on behalf of the syndicate one-fifth, of $4,000,000 or $800,000.

M'CABE ADMITS CHANGING WORD

WROTE "CAFFEIN" FOR
"BENZOIC ACID"

Also Tells of Hiring Coffee Expert at Illegal Rate at Wiley Hearing

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—The investigation of the "Wiley incident" in the department of agriculture revolving around the charges that Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, as chief chemist, employed an expert scientist at an illegal rate of payment, reached an acute state in the Moss committee of inquiry in the house today.

Evidence showing that Solicitor McCabe had removed the words "benzoic acid," and substituted the word "caffein" before circulating a judgment rendered against a food manufacturer in a Missouri court, was only one incident in a session full of lively clashes between members of the committee and attorneys.

Explaining the changes in the court judgment, Mr. McCabe said that in the complaint, as drawn up by the agricultural department, the charges were not based on the use of benzoic acid and the department had found that some coal tar dyes were not harmful. He made the change therefore to make it conform to the original citation of the department of justice.

Coffee Expert Expensive

"The records show that this firm pleaded guilty to a charge of adulteration with benzoic acid and coal tar dyes," declared Attorney Henry M. Davis, representing Dr. Wiley, "but this witness admits that he changed these words before sending out the judgment as a public record."

Mr. McCabe said that the charges against Dr. Wiley were prepared by three members of the personnel board all working together in conference. Mr. McCabe then admitted that William R. Harris, a coffee expert, is employed by the bureau of chemistry under similar terms to the employment of Dr. Rusby, which he declined to sanction.

Harris is paid $9 a day for examining samples and $50 a day for attendance as an expert in court. It was after Mr. McCabe had refused to sanction such a plan for Dr. Rusby that Dr. Wiley made the $1,000 contract with the latter, which brought about the present charges.

What is the difference in the two cases? Mr. McCabe was asked. "The Harris case was an unusual one," he said, "he was the only coffee expert the government could get to do the work."

To Call Officials.

As a result of the view credited to President Taft in a newspaper article that the house committee is conducting an "extra investigation of the Wiley case," Chairman Moss announced today that all witnesses whom the department of agriculture or the president might desire to put on the stand will be heard.

Dr. Dunlay, associate chemist, who, Solicitor McCabe today said, had prepared the memorandum in the Dr. Rusby case upon which the charges were laid against Dr. Wiley, Secretary Wilson and other officials, will be called before the committee concludes its sessions.

The power of the committee to inquire into the Wiley case as it now rests before the president, was raised during the hearing today by Representative Sloan of Nebraska. Representative May of Florida, replied in vigorous language, that he "wanted the light turned on everything" and that the people are tired of having technical objections made to keep out important evidence.

Mr. Sloan said he thought the committee ought first to get the power to investigate the Wiley case, but finally withdrew all objections to the line of inquiry and said he was willing the investigation should go as far as the committee desired.

$500,000. The contract moreover was made subject to the approval of the stockholders.

"The steel corporation reserved the right to offer to every preferred stockholder in the corporation the option to subscribe for these new bonds to the extent of 40 per cent of his preferred stock. In view of the fact that the steel corporation had made this contract with the syndicate, if every preferred stockholder exercised his right and took 40 per cent of bonds in exchange for his stock the syndicate would be placed in position where it would get only $2,000,000 of its $20,000,000 of preferred stock converted into bonds and would be left with $18,000,000 of preferred stock on its hands although it pledged itself to tie up this $20,000,000 of stock for 18 months and could not sell it in any way."

"In consideration of all this risk, the syndicate was given the right to receive a commission of 4 per cent on such bonds as were issued to preferred stockholders not members of the syndicate. The $10,000,000 maximum to the syndicate can only be received by it, provided the entire transaction of purchasing $200,000,000 of preferred stock and retiring it and then issuing and placing on the market $250,000,000 of second mortgage bonds at par is completed and consummated."

EVERYTHING FOR EVERYBODY

Mr. Mitchell was trying to find his baggage to make a change of apparel. Both he and Mrs. Mitchell took their experiences good naturedly and spent the evening in their wet clothes talking notes of how the London firemen handle big outbreaks.

Among other Americans in the hotel when the fire started who lost all or most all of his baggage, and some of whom only half time to don a few clothes were

T. W. and C. G. Woolworth of New York, R. W. Daniels of Philadelphia, J. P. Scott of Chicago, George Parbury of Pittsburgh, Hinton French of Baltimore, E. D. Harvey of Baltimore, H. I. Guerber and E. W. Broder of Mexico, ex-Governor Brown and son of Maryland.

One of the features of the fire was the escape of the Americans. What little panic and excitement existed was among employees of the hotel chiefly the continental women in the servants' quarters who were screaming at the top of their voices.

John Greenway of Arizona took two women and a boy down a fire escape while R. W. Daniels slid down a rope to the street from the third floor with an English friend who was visiting him.

Thomas Edison was standing at the Carlton but was out when the fire occurred.

Finney a Character Actor.
NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—James Lee Finney was a widely-known character actor, who had appeared in many of the recent successful plays on the metropolitan stage and in cities throughout the country. He was born 47 years ago, in St. Louis, and made his first stage appearance in Syracuse, N. Y., in 1881.

He appeared for a time in various parts with the Booth-Barrett company. In 1894 he joined the Empire Stock company and appeared in conspicuous parts for four years. During 1901 he toured with Daniel Frohman's company, and for the next two years appeared steadily in New York theaters. One of his best remembered recent characterizations was that of a reporter in "The Stolen Story." His character depictions received much favorable comment and the "newspaper" man part was one of his most successful specialties.

But beneath his plate he found this note:

DEMOCRATS MAY MEET COMPROMISE DEMANDS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—There was much activity today in the interest of an agreement between the two houses of congress on the differences on the wool bill, resulting in an understanding that Messrs. LaFollette and Underwood, constituting the subcommittee of the full conference committee, would make an early effort to reach an adjustment. The close of the day found the two legislators still apart on essential details, but nearer than before.

When they were in conference on Tuesday, LaFollette gave Underwood to understand that he could not possibly get his followers to agree to a rate of less than 30 per cent on raw wool, while Mr. Underwood told him that it would be necessary to come to 25 per cent if not to 25 per cent to insure the acceptance of the conference report by the house. The senate representative undertook to make a Calvary, but with little hope of success. He had been assured of the support of only eight of the insurgent Republicans of the senate for 30 per cent. He could afford to lose only two votes and his investigation was not reassuring.

Mr. Underwood was more confident than his fellow conferees leading to the conclusion that he might go farther than he yet had manifested a willingness to do. His optimism was due to a change in the conditions in the house.

The Democrats of the house have been thoroughly canvassed in the last two days, to determine whether they would support an increase of the rates in the Underwood bill in order to effect a compromise with the insurgent Democratic strength of the senate. It was asserted today by prominent Democrats that Mr. Underwood has found an unexpected strength in favor of meeting the LaFollette forces on the best possible compromise basis, preferably something below 30 per cent on raw wool. Mr. Underwood said today that he expected the wool situation will solve itself tomorrow when the full committee probably would meet.

"We will either agree or definitely disagree tomorrow," was his assertion. He added that if an agreement were reached two or three days might be necessary to put the agreement into the form of a bill to be presented to the two houses.

DENVER WAITRESSES ASK EIGHT-HOUR DAY

DENVER, Aug. 9.—The union waitresses of Denver have decided to pass an eight-hour law of their own and not wait for a legislature to do it. Beginning August 15, they will work only eight hours a day for seven days in the week, or nine hours a day for six days. They will demand 25 cents an hour for all overtime.

This in effect was the ultimatum given out by the officers of the waitresses union to the hotel and restaurant men today. Whether the latter will agree to the proposition is not certain. The waitresses say there will be no trouble. Waitresses are not included in the eight-hour law passed by the last legislature which will be referred to the people at the next election.

FATAL CROSSING ACCIDENT

Auto Hit by Fast Train in Iowa, Killing Four Occupants—Fifth Will Die

SIOUX CITY, Aug. 9.—Four persons are dead and another fatally injured as the result of a railroad crossing accident near Galva, Ia., today.

An automobile, occupied by A. J. Johnson and family of Akron, Ia., was struck by a Northwestern passenger train which left here at 3.30 o'clock this morning.

The dead: A. F. JOHNSON, farmer; MRS. JOHNSON, wife of the dead man; FLORENCE JOHNSON, 17 years old; DOROTHY JOHNSON, 6 years old.

The injured: Bernice Johnson, aged 8, will die.

Mr. Johnson, wife and three daughters were returning to Akron from a visit at Kiran, Ia. They did not see the approaching train, which was traveling about 30 miles an hour. The automobile was carried 100 feet on the pilot before it dropped off. When the engineer stopped the train he found the mother and youngest daughter, Dorothy, dead on the spot. Mr. Johnson and the other two daughters were picked up alongside the truck.

A special train was made up at Galva and started for this place with the injured victims. Florence died on the train at Moline, Ia., and Mr. Johnson expired after reaching the hospital here this evening.

The remaining daughter, Bernice, is in a serious condition, and may not live throughout the night.

VEIO BILL IS UP AGAIN

LONDON, Aug. 9.—The lords voted in favor of the bill added by the peerage when it was last in their hands. A counting of heads of the factions, the "die hards," the "surrenderers" and the "moderates" has shown the possibility of a vote surprisingly close.

The house was crowded, the spectators including George von L. Meyer, the American secretary of the navy, American Ambassador Reid and Count Beckendorff, German ambassador to Great Britain who occupied seats in the diplomatic gallery.

It was the highest number of peers since the rejection of the home rule bill in 1893 and Lord Morley was supported by the largest force of radical peers gathered in the memory of the oldest members. A throng of eager members of the house of commons crowded the streets around the throne. Peers in lightest summer costumes vigorously fanned themselves in a vain attempt to dissipate the overpowering heat.

Moving the consideration of amendments of the house of commons and the reasons for disagreeing with the lord's amendments, Lord Morley said the Lansdowne amendment providing for the submission to a referendum of any grave issue before it received royal assent had raised an inseparable barrier to an agreement between the government and the unionist majority in the upper house.

Lord Lansdowne, the opposition leader, complained that it was clear there was no prospect of a unionist view obtaining consideration if they persisted in their amendments.

Lord Lansdowne pleaded with the unionists to unite, saying that the present debate was only the beginning of a struggle which might last for years and which would need a united party. The archbishop of York, who contended that it would be against the interests of the king, country and upper house to persist in the amendment, said he would support the bill.

JOHN DIETZ REPORTED ILL

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 9.—John Dietz, the defender of Cameron and is seriously ill at the Waupun state prison, the result of blood poisoning from a wound received in the memorable battle with deputy sheriffs of last October, according to a telegram received by George Schultes, chairman of the Dietz defense committee. Mrs. Dietz wired Schultes that Dietz's right hand where he was wounded has become infected. A bullet struck the hand and shattered it. Splinters of bone were driven into the flesh and it has been impossible to extract all of them. The wound festered and Dietz's condition is now precarious. The members of the Dietz family will visit the sick man in the prison hospital today.

SENATE ADJOURNS OUT RESPECT TO SENATOR FRYE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Out of respect to the memory of the late Senator William F. Frye, of Maine, who died at his home in Maine yesterday, the senate adjourned till noon Thursday. Official announcement of the death was made by Senator Johnson of Maine.

Resolutions of sympathy were adopted, and Vice President Sherman named a committee to attend the funeral at Lewiston, Me.

The committee will include Senators Cullom of Illinois, Perkins of California, and Clark and Warren of Wyoming. On account of poor health Senators Cullom and Perkins, it was said, would not be able to attend the funeral.

President Taft today sent to Senator Frye's daughter, Mrs. William Frye White, Lewiston, Me., a telegram extending sympathy and paying tribute to Senator Frye's ability and patriotism.

GATES FUNERAL SATURDAY

PARIS, Aug. 9.—It was stated today that the body of J. W. Gates will be placed in a vault at the interdenominational American church in the Rue De Berri, where it will remain until taken aboard a steamer for removal to the United States. The funeral services will be held at this church on Saturday.

The body will be taken home probably on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Der Grosse which will sail from Cherbourg on Wednesday of next week. It was on this same steamer that Mr. Gates had planned to sail for New York in the first week in July. He had been in Europe a month then.

TIT FOR TAT

From Answers, London.

Mrs. Smart's new servant was an acquisition. "He was Chinese," and his name was John. He could cook like a dream. He could wash like a steam laundry. In fact, the only thing in which he really failed was in answering the front door bell.

This one failing, however, proved decidedly awkward, especially as Mrs. Smart was giving an at-home on the morrow. She imparted to her celestial slave the most rigid instructions regarding his duties, showing him how Europeans opened doors and announced visitors, and, finally, ringing the bell herself, and making him show her into her own drawing room.

On the morrow she was startled to hear the bell ring some half hour before her visitors were expected. Hurriedly putting the finishing touches to her toilet, she flew downstairs. But where was John? The bell rang a second time. She ran to the head of the stairs, and whispered, "John!"

SHIP FOUNDERS OFF GIBRALTER; 93 DROWN

GIBRALTAR, Aug. 9.—The French steamer Emir foundered today five miles east of Tarifa, Spain, in the straits of Gibraltar. Ninety-three persons were drowned. The ship sailed from here at 3 o'clock this morning for a Moroccan port.

An hour later in a dense fog, she collided with the British steamer Silverton bound from Newport, Eng., for Taranto, Italy. The crew of the latter rescued 27 of the Emir's crew and passengers. The Silverton later put in here with her starboard bow stove in and her forepeak full of water.

The Emir floated only a few minutes after the collision. Sixty-nine passengers and twenty-four of the crew went down with the ship. Twelve of the crew and fifteen passengers were saved. All the passengers were French. The Emir was a vessel of 1,291 tons and was owned at Marseilles by the Compagnie De Navigation Mixte.

William Henry Jackson, 73 years old, who is the victim of one of New York's most atrocious crimes. Jackson, who was a Wall Street broker, and a descendant of a fine old New York family, was found slain in his room in the Hotel Irvington recently.

WHOLESALE EXECUTIONS FOLLOW ALI FGFD PLOT

MADRID, Aug. 9.—The Spanish government affirms in explanation of the summary court martial and execution of 28 men of the battalions Numancia, who mutinied while the vessel was at Tenger, Saturday, that the revolt was a Republican plot in which about 100 sailors were implicated. The Republicans appear especially active throughout the country and the government is correspondingly on the alert.

TEACHING MOTHER ARITHMETIC

From Judge.

Women are known to be skilled in figures—that is to say, arithmetical figures. The mother was teaching her small son his first lesson in subtraction, having got him past addition with a fair degree of success.

"You see, Willie," she said, "you can't subtract figures of different kinds from each other—apples from potatoes, for instance."

"State, Mary can," Willie insisted, with marvellous confidence in figures.

"Oh, no, she can't."

"Yes, but she can mamma," Willie insisted. "She took one egg from my plate this morning at breakfast, and I had the plate left."

SEND RESERVATIONS FOR SPACE AT DRY FARM SHOW

Letters Being Sent to County Commissioners Asking Them to Boost Meeting

Over 3,000 square feet of space has been reserved for Canadian livestock products by the International Dry Farming congress, which is to be held here in October, and yesterday afternoon in Lakewood, Texas, sent out requests for space aggregating 300 square feet. Quay, county, New Mexico also asked that space be reserved, and at a meeting held there August 6 it was decided by the chamber of commerce of Quay, the county seat of Quay county, to send a delegation to the congress instead of sending a delegation to the territorial fair at Albuquerque, N. M., which is to take place at the same time.

The following is a circular letter sent out by the congress to boards of county commissioners over the United States:

"To the Board of County Commissioners: Are you interested in securing better laws? A better system of agricultural education in rural schools? A forestation of the farming districts with wind breaks, and beautification of public highways? More liberal federal aid for agricultural college extension and experiment work? Establishing better farming methods and increased acreage production in your country? Helping your farmers to overcome obstacles caused by lack of rainfall, frosts, blowing soils, etc? If so, select your delegates to the International Dry Farming congress and for the International Congress of Farm Women with great care. Get farmers who are interested and who can afford to make this trip for the good of themselves and the country. If there are no such reliable who not send official delegates at the expense of the county, someone who will be able to address meetings of your farmers when he returns and is capable of giving the information gleaned to your farmers. It will be worth thousands of dollars to you and your country."

The matter of exhibits is important to you. Encourage your farmers to bring or send some of their dry farming products to the congress. It will create a spirit of competition among your farmers and will bring much publicity to your county and state. We will be glad to correspond with you about the conventions and exhibition.

PERMANENT ELECTRIC DECORATIONS PLANNED

To show the contrast in the appearance of the downtown district with the carnival lights of General Manager George B. Tripp of the Colorado Springs Light, Heat & Power company ordered the lights out last night, and for the first time since the carnival the big area and streamers were dark.

"I just wanted to show the people how shabby the downtown section of the city looks with the lights out," said Mr. Tripp last night. "Inasmuch as the company is furnishing the electricity free of charge, I took the liberty of ordering the current shut off."

Members of the Chamber of Commerce have already taken up the position of buying a company of electric decorations pretty much like those now on, with added features that are to be seen in Denver. There the streamers run across the street with the effect of a draped curtain, which is exceedingly beautiful. The Chamber of Commerce probably will cooperate with the city in the purchase of this outfit, and Mr. Tripp announces that he will furnish electricity for the remainder of the summer at a price close to actual cost.

Business men who decorated their buildings with electric lights were furnished electricity by the company free of charge, and since the carnival Mr. Tripp has seen to it that the streamers and are lights are kept lighted. Neither the city nor private individuals were thus put to expense for current during and since the carnival.

It is pointed out by members of the Chamber of Commerce that the decorations can be bought at a small expense, that the investment will be permanent, and that the decorations can be used on all special occasions, serving to beautify the city greatly. Some members believe that the lights should be on at all times, and business firms are now considering permanent decorations. The Gazette building will be outlined permanently in electric lights.

Indianapolis Officials Visit Park System Here

Samuel L. Shanks, mayor of Indianapolis, came to Colorado Springs from Denver yesterday to take a trip through the city's parks. He is greatly pleased with what Colorado Springs has to show, and declared yesterday that he has picked up a number of ideas which he hopes to have carried out in connection with parks at Indianapolis. He is accompanied by Dr. W. F. Johnston, a member of the common council of that city, and Theodore Hewes, who represents the commercial organizations of Indianapolis and who will make a report on parks and parking when the party returns east. While here Mayor Shanks will be given photographs showing scenes in the various Colorado Springs parks and furnished with data as to the cost, extent and improvements of the system.

He is a strong advocate of elevated railway tracks and says that Indianapolis has completed, at an expense of $1,000,000, the elevation of every railroad track which passes through Indianapolis.

"It is a great thing," he said, "and has saved hundreds of lives. Now the danger is, overcome by the raising of the rails to such a position as to make accidents all but impossible. In addition, the elevated construction is more sanitary and by far more cleanly than the surface road."

BIRTH—Mr. and Mrs. O. E. McKinney, 31 West Low Avenue, are the parents of a nine-pound daughter, born July 23.

Governor Invites Farmers Missourians to Hold Their Picnic Today

Letter Which is Official Call for Dry Farming Congress, in Form of Proclamation

The following is a letter that is being sent out to farmers on complimentary land by the International Dry Farming congress, in the official call and invitation to attend from Governor Shafter, and takes on the color of a proclamation:

To Farmers on Non-irrigated Land: Colorado is to entertain the sixth International Dry Farming congress as this year. The official call and invitation for this congress and the congress of Farm Women is directed to the farmers of the state. As the governor of the state of Colorado, and as honorary chairman of the board of control, it gives me great pleasure to urge the people of Colorado to take advantage of the chance of this great convention for the purpose of educating themselves to a higher level of farming, the use of better tillage methods, implements and seed. The members of the state board of control, with the assistance of their practical farmers, presidents and officers of agricultural colleges will be present and address the convention.

The Congress of Farm Women is a new idea, but worthy of consideration. The improvement of country home life is an item of great importance in the development of future citizenship of this state, therefore, I would urge that the Colorado farm women accept and participate in this convention, taking advantage of the low railroad rates that have been made for this purpose.

The management has announced an exposition of dry farming products in connection with the congress. The state board of control is endeavoring to make this exposition notable and I believe that it will be profitable for our farmers to participate in this exposition. It will be a great education to see what is being accomplished in other countries under this system. I would urge that the Colorado division of the exposition be surpassed, and that our farmers arrive at the exposition with the best of the products of our state and for their communities and for the state at large.

Those who are interested may address the secretary of the congress in Colorado Springs and receive premium lists and other information. Very sincerely,
JOHN F. SHAFER, Governor.

LIQUOR LICENSE GRANTED

Benjamin Brown, who recently leased the Spaulding hotel, succeeding John Leonard, was granted a liquor license by the city council yesterday. The license is to become operative at 7 o'clock this morning, and is good for one year. There were no protests against issuing the license.

Only routine matters occupied the attention of the commissioners yesterday. The new solicitors' ordinance was passed, the measure providing that all classes of solicitors must be licensed and under police regulation. Penalties are provided for molesting people on the streets or at the railroad stations.

The widow and children of Edgar C. Allen, gave notice that they intend to sue the city for $5,000 damages. Allen was killed in a cave-in at the city gravel pit a few weeks ago. L. R. Younes, house detective at the Antlers hotel, was appointed a special police officer without pay. An ordinance to prevent the contamination of food stuffs was passed on first reading.

No action was taken in the Armstrong case, and the matter is to come up for settlement. It is said that a meeting to be held tomorrow. Commissioner Hunsbrough reported that he has completed his investigation, but that as yet he has had no opportunity to consult with the city attorney about a number of legal points involved.

Taking Moving Pictures Wildflower Excursion

Patrons of moving picture shows the world over will see beautiful Granite canon and other interesting bits of scenery along the route of the Midland Wildflower excursion trip in the near future. Arrangements having been made yesterday by the Rex Film company to photograph the entire trip with moving picture cameras today. J. S. Dawley, manager of the Rex company, with a staff of 15 players and camera men will ride in a special car over the Midland route.

It is planned to enact a comedy in some beautiful spot to be picked-out on the trip, with the background of the mountains and it is for this reason that Mr. Dawley is taking the Rex players with him. What the comedy is he would not make known, though, as the company of comedians and picture plays are kept secret until ready to be placed on the moving picture machine.

That this will be the best kind of advertising for the Pike's Peak region and the railroad is readily seen. The Midland is furnishing the company with a special car and has given a photographer permission to ride on the cowcatcher of the engine.

HUNDREDS OF INDIANANS WILL PICNIC SATURDAY

Saturday will be Hoosier day at Stratton Park, and members aggregating several hundred who make up the personnel of the Indiana society of Colorado will take part in the festivities, as will visiting Hoosiers, of whom there is a large number. Former United States Senator T. M. Patterson of Denver is expected to make the address of the day.

An election of officers will be held, the occasion being the annual meeting of the Indiana society as well as the annual picnic. It is expected that all who wish to attend leave their baggage at the office in the Midland block.

SEEK FRED SAMPSON

Fred Sampson, a chauffeur formerly employed at the Cascade garage, is being sought by the police on the theory that he drove Charles A. Mowbray's automobile which was wrecked near the Manitou garage.

Mowbray is a visitor from Arkansas City, Kan., and did not know that he and his car were until he read about the wrecked machine in the newspapers. He went to the scene of the accident and identified the car as his. He said yesterday that young Sampson had frequently admired the car.

Monday last the car was sent to the Manitouway carriage company to have a top put on. When the work was finished a man answering Sampson's description called and said that Mowbray had sent him after the car. The machine, which is a Buick model '10, was badly damaged when it struck a telephone pole. The occupants of the car at the time of the accident are unknown to the authorities.

THERMOMETER UP IN THE AIR YESTERDAY

Yesterday was next in the hottest day of the summer in Colorado Springs, the maximum temperature registered at the Colorado College weather bureau being 89 degrees, two degrees less than the maximum for Tuesday, the hottest day of the year. The minimum temperature yesterday was 65 degrees, and the mean, 77.

The relative humidity was only 14, in sharp contrast to the excessive figures in the east, and a cool breeze throughout the day and a brisk shower about 4 p. m., relieved the discomfort.

S.S.S. FOR SUMMER SKIN DISEASE

During the summer most persons are annoyed with pimples, boils, rashes or eruptions, while others suffer more severely with Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, or some kindred skin disease. All skin affections come from humors and acids in the circulation. The blood, as it circulates through the system, deposits these humors and acids in the sensitive membranous flesh which lies just beneath the outer skin. This acid matter causes inflammation and a discharge which breaks through the delicate cuticle, and skin diseases are the result. To cure any skin trouble the blood must be freed from all acids and humors, and for this purpose nothing equals S.S.S. It removes every particle of the impurity, enriches the blood, and in this way permanently cures skin diseases. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free. S.S.S. is for sale at drug stores.

EXPECT RELATIVES TODAY

Relatives of Del Cutler, the young man who died at St. Francis hospital a few weeks ago, giving his name as Bremer, are expected to come to Colorado Springs today. It is understood that when they reach here the body will be exhumed and taken to Waterloo, Ia., for interment. Young Cutler, as has already been published, died after being struck with a rock as he was sitting along the trail leading up to Pikes Peak. An attempt was made to force poison or acid down his throat, his friends claim, and his ring and watch stolen. Relatives of the young man discredited the suicide theory, and believe that Cutler was murdered. A brother from Waterloo and a brother-in-law, R. A. Bacon, of Cheyenne, Wyo., Colo., are expected today to take charge of the body.

BEAUTIES OF THE ORIENT

An Oriental Spectacle of Great Beauty Will Be Given as One of the Features With the Wild West and Far East on Buffalo Bill's Last Visit.

In striking contrast to the battle scenes and warlike features of the wild west section of Buffalo Bill's Wild West and Pawnee Bill's Far East will be the introduction of an oriental spectacle as the principal number in the far east division. From the rugged fasts of our own mountains and plains the scene shifts to the sands of Sahara, the Pyramids and the Sphinx. The Bedouin bandits are holding a party of tourists for ransom, and while negotiations are pending give them an oriental entertainment as a pastime. The pageant which opens the entertainment displays the gorgeous costumes and trappings of the ancient Egyptians, the camels and elephants decked with varicolored accoutrements, the various tribes and people of the Sudan and far east appearing in native garb, displaying an ensemble of color of surpassing beauty. As a particular feature of an entertainment which calls into requisition Arabian and Japanese acrobats and athletes, Hindoo fakirs and other skillful denizens of the far east, Roost's musical elephants will be introduced. They ring bells and pump organs with their feet, blow trumpets in musical harmony and in general present a spectacle of surpassing interest. Accompanying them through their specialty, four beautifully costumed young ladies will assist in the musical features and participate in the marches and drills which form part of the elephant exhibit. The far east features will be in marked contrast, as has been said, with the wild west section of the entertainment—Indian battles, typical western scenes and displays of broncho busting being vastly different from the mild and placid scenes of oriental beauty.

Housewarming at First Presbyterian Tonight

Two hundred or more men of the First Presbyterian church will hold a housewarming at the church tonight, when a big dinner will be served. Trull of New York will speak, as will the pastor, the Rev. Samuel Garvin.

He formerly lived in Colorado Springs and several months ago was arrested here on a similar charge.

King Hopes for Money Judgment to Carry His Case to Supreme Court

George King, one of the murderers of Peter Jackson, a ranchman who lived near Ramah, Colo., and who was sentenced to death by District Judge Sheafor, sitting in Elbert county, will be hanged during the last week in October unless Governor Shafer of the state board of pardons intervenes.

King, who was unmoved when sentenced to death, and who, as pressed in the prison at his last, is now begging for time, but his plea has not been officially presented to the governor. He is plaintiff in an action against the Colorado Portland Cement company for the loss of an arm, but the case cannot be heard until the November term of court, and King is sentenced to hang during the week ending October 28. He has no money and no friends, but believes if he wins the damages suit he will have funds with which to appeal to the supreme court.

The murder for which King was sentenced to death was committed July 1, 1911. King and John Fields, the latter 18 years old, were employed near Jackson's ranch and learned that the old man usually carried several hundred dollars in his pocket. Jackson was shot and then struck with an axe, Fields committing the crime under the direction of King. Fields escaped with a sentence of life imprisonment. The last legal hanging in Colorado took place three years ago, when James Lynn, a negro, sentenced in Pueblo county, was executed. Three men have since been sentenced, but two, Louis Wachter and Fred Peak, have obtained writs of superseas from the supreme court.

THE DAY'S NEWS IN SPORT CIRCLES

SCARCITY OF STARS MAY BRING THE BATTLER BACK

Coast Promoters Unable to Find Pair of Boxers for High Class Bout

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—A little more than a month ago the city of San Francisco was fairly bristling with champions and those near to the kind of men who figure strong enough to furnish a high class boxing attraction for the month of August in the city which makes champions and where they make their fortunes. A curious question is, what is the game of boxers coming to, anyhow? The fighters themselves must answer.

A little more than a month ago Adolph Volgaist successfully defended his title against challenger Owen Moran, the countless little Briton. The winner was challenged by Freddie Welsh, Matt Wells, Packey McFarland, "Knockout" Brown and a number of others not so well known to fame. The thousands of fans present started building castles in the air right off the reel, and began shouting out which pair would make the greatest match for the month of August. They were fairly staggered. Now the month of August is well on its way and Promoter Jim Coffroth can't even get a card. He has Welsh under his wing and ready to do battle, but the fight of unappealing a live one for the foreigner has been beyond him up to the present time. The fighters are either busy some place else or they won't condescend to start in San Francisco unless they are approached by a Jeffries-Johnson offer.

If the worst comes to the worst, it is as though Coffroth would finally give up by putting on Welsh with—just guess—the never-to-be-kept Battling Nelson. This wonderful fighting machinery came to the other night in a little bush up in Oregon and led the natives to believe that he had performed an act by knocking out some of the famous fighters, whom we never heard of before.

The "Battler" is not to be denied. There is no getting away from this. He keeps bounding and bounding around like a ball made of pure India rubber, and just when the fans thought they had seen the last of him, he comes again with a "come back" talk that's a hair raiser.

Everybody who saw the "Battler" take that awful mauling from Moran, last November, realized full well that the former lightweight champion is no fit to take part in a ring engagement with a Jeffries. Everybody who saw anything about boxing laughs at the idea of Nelson's fighting a "live" but still they would turn out to him if he started.

Nelson and Welsh would provide plenty of amusement for the boxing lovers of San Francisco, and at the same time they would draw many thousands of dollars into the box office. Nelson and Welsh have been rivals for years and years, yet, strange-

PIRATES' 10-INNING VICTORY PUTS CUBS AWAY FROM TOP

The leadership in the National league fell into the hands of Pittsburgh yesterday. This is the first time this season that the world champions of 1909 have touched the top rung of the 1911 standing.

The dislodgment of Chicago from first place came as the climax of a remarkable string of victories for Pittsburgh, including a 10-inning battle with Philadelphia yesterday afternoon, and aided by the defeat of the Cubs at the hands of New York. The combination of victories and defeats places the Pirates in the lead over the Cubs by a margin of one point.

A glance at the club standings shows that the Pittsburgh team has played three more games than have the Cubs. The Pirates' winning streak included 13 straight games from Boston and Brooklyn, to which were added two victories over New York and three straight over Philadelphia.

Upsets Occur in Clay Court Championships
OMAHA, Aug. 9.—Today's matches in the national clay court tennis championship tournament at the Omaha Field club wrought sad havoc within the ranks of the champions and near champions, who already had fought several hard rounds in the hope that they might reach semifinals.

The day's matches brought together cracks from almost every section of the country, and when they were over, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Norfolk and Texas players were left to divide honors in the semifinals in singles tomorrow. The matches in doubles also were fought out with an intensity that gave evidence of extreme competition for the national clay court championship honors.

In the singles, Rendell and Silverard, the Pittsburgh players, were successful, as were "Garry" Hayes of Chicago and J. H. Winston of Norfolk, Va.

The doubles were replete with interesting matches. The last of which was not finished until long after sundown. Winston and Whitehead made a struggle with Adou and Shelding, the Texas players, but won out in four well-contested sets. Horr and Jones, the St. Louis team, also got into the semifinals by defeating Bailey and Armstrong. The McCusker brothers, also Dixie representatives, had a four-set match with Brandon and Barton, the South Dakota representatives, and won after two sets had gone to deuce.

The finals in singles and doubles will be played tomorrow.

DES MOINES, Aug. 9.—The property of John F. Higgins, Western league manager, and owner of the Des Moines team, was attached today at the local park by deputy sheriffs. The officers took possession of the club's paraphernalia in the clubhouse.

Joe Gehlen, secretary of the local Elks club, later secured the release of the attached property, after promising that the goods would be presented when the case is called in court. The suits and other paraphernalia were then returned to the players.

Steve Evans, hard-hitting outfielder of the St. Louis Cardinals and one of Bresnahan's trump cards in his fight pennantward, Bresnahan has made Evans one of the best outfielders in the league, developing him from a mediocre player with no special ability in any department of diamond play.

With Ruba Ellis on the side of him and Rebel Clark at the other, Evans in the king pin of a garden trio that is a big draw the old St. Louis Cardinals.

PITCHERS OF PRESENT DAY HAVE EDGE ON OLD TIMERS

Many Changes in Playing Rules Were Made Solely for Benefit of Boxmen

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—The pitchers in baseball today have several advantages over the men who tossed in the old days. When balls didn't count at all it was tough on the pitcher because the batsman could stand and pound away until the man on the box became exhausted. But today, with the first two fouls counting a strike, the batsman who got the rough end of it. SEEK FRED SAMPSON

Fred Sampson, a chauffeur formerly employed at the Cascade garage, is being sought by the police on the theory that he drove Charles A. Montreux's automobile which was wrecked in the night Monday night.

Montreux is a resident from Arkansas City, Kan., and did not know what had become of the car until he read about the wrecked machine in the newspapers. He went to the scene of the accident and identified the car as his. He said yesterday that young Sampson had frequently admired the auto.

Monday last the car was sent to the Homeaway garage company to have a top put on. When the work was finished a man answering Sampson's description called and said that Montreux had sent him after the car.

The machine which is a Buick model 18, was badly damaged when it struck a telephone pole. The occupants of the car at the time of the accident are unknown to the authorities.

THERMOMETER UP IN THE AIR YESTERDAY

Yesterday was next to the hottest day of the summer in Colorado Springs, the maximum temperature registered at the Colorado College weather bureau being 83 degrees, two degrees less than the maximum for Tuesday, the hottest day of the year. The minimum temperature yesterday was 65 degrees, and the mean 77.

The relative humidity was only 14, in sharp contrast to the excessive figures in the east, and a cool breeze throughout the day and a brisk shower about 4 p. m., relieved the discomfort.

EXPECT RELATIVES TODAY

Relatives of Del Cutler, the young man who died at St. Francis hospital a few weeks ago, giving his name as Bremer, are expected to come to Colorado Springs today. It is understood that when they reach here the body will be exhumed and taken to Waterloo, Ia., for interment. Young Cutler, who has already been published, died after being struck with a rock as he was sitting along the trail leading up to Pikes Peak. An attempt was made to force poison or acid down his throat, his friends claim, and his ring and watch stolen. Relatives of the young man discredited the suicide theory, and believe that Cutler was murdered. A brother from Waterloo and a brother-in-law, R. A. Bacon, of Cheyenne, Wyo., Colo., are expected today to take charge of the body.

BEAUTIES OF THE ORIENT

An Oriental Spectacle of Great Beauty Will Be Given as One of the Features With the Wild West and Far East on Buffalo Bill's Last Visit.

In striking contrast to the battle scenes and warlike features of the wild west section of Buffalo Bill's Wild West and Pawnee Bill's Far East will be the introduction of an oriental spectacle as the principal number in the far east division. From the rugged vistas of our own mountains and plains the scene shifts to the sands of Sahara, the Pyramids and the Sphinx. The Bedouin bandits are holding a party of tourists for ransom, and while negotiations are pending give them an oriental entertainment as a pastime.

The spectacle which opens the entertainment displays the gorgeous costumes and trappings of the ancient Egyptians, the camels and elephants bedecked with varicolored accoutrements, the various tribes and people of the Soudan and far east appearing in native garb, displaying an ensemble of color of surpassing beauty. As a particular feature of an entertainment which calls into requisition Arabian and Japanese acrobats and athletes, Hindoo fakirs and other skillful denizens of the far east, Ross's musical elephants will be introduced. They ring bells and pump organs with their feet, blow trumpets in musical harmony, and in general present a spectacle of surpassing interest. Accompanying them through their specialty, fantastically costumed young ladies will assist in the musical features and participate in the various games and drills which form part of the elephant exhibit. The far east features will be in marked contrast, as has been said, with the wild west section of the entertainment—Indian battles, typical western scenes and displays of broncho "busting" being vastly different from the mild and placid scenes of oriental beauty.

HOUSEWARMING AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN TONIGHT

Two hundred or more men of the First Presbyterian church will hold a housewarming at the church tonight, when a big dinner will be served, and far, 200 plates have been spoken for, and it is probable that the number will be augmented by at least half again as many. The Rev. Dr. George R. Trull of New York will speak, as will the pastor, the Rev. Samuel Garvin.

King Hopes for Money Judgment to Carry His Case to Supreme Court

George King, one of the murderers of Peter Jackson, a ranchman who lived near Ramah, Colo., and who was sentenced to death by District Judge Shafter, sitting in Elbert county, will be hanged during the last week in October unless governor Shafter or the state board of pardons intervenes. King, who was unmoved when sentence was pronounced and who expressed indifference at his fate, is now begging for time, but his plea has not been officially presented to the governor. It is said that an action against the Colorado Portland Cement company for the loss of an arm, the case cannot be heard until the November term of court, and King is sentenced to hang during the week ending October 28. He has no money and no friends, but believes if he wins the damage suit he will have funds with which to appeal to the supreme court.

The murder for which King was sentenced to death was committed July 1, 1911. King and John Fields, the latter 18 years old, were employed near Jackson's ranch and learned that the old man usually carried several hundred dollars in his pocket. Jackson was shot and then struck with an ax. Fields committing the crime under the direction of King. Fields escaped with a sentence of life imprisonment. The last legal hanging in Colorado took place three years ago, when James Lynn, a negro, sentenced in Pueblo county, was executed. Three men have since been sentenced, but two, Louis Wechter and Fred Peet, have obtained writs of superseas from the supreme court.

THE BOY SCOUTS

THE Boy Scout movement was launched in this country less than two years ago, but the organization has already attained a membership many thousands greater than that of the parent English organization which was formed nearly four years ago. This fact certainly shows that there is something in the Boy Scout movement which makes a strong appeal to American boys and American parents. That it will gradually establish itself on a firmer basis and exert a permanent beneficial influence on the lives of untold thousands of boys is hardly to be doubted.

The crowds that participated in the Carnival festivities last week probably observed the activities of the local Scouts. A company of sturdy youngsters in uniform marched in the Civic and Pioneer parade. Throughout the week the Scouts sold the official program, and in several ways made themselves useful by living up to their motto, "Be prepared." Now it is announced that the Scout organization has arranged to make a daily display of weather flags upon the flagstaff of the Exchange Bank Building. These displays will be for official forecasts received by wire from the District Forecaster in Denver, daily except Sundays and holidays, when no forecasts are made.

The Boy Scout movement has been warmly endorsed by practically all of the public men, such as Colonel Roosevelt, who have displayed particular interest in developing a love of outdoor life in boys. At first it encountered some opposition because of a popular impression that its objects were essentially military, but now that this has been overcome there is no doubt of the ultimate success of the movement as a nation-wide organization to develop sound minds and sound bodies in American boys.

A FLY KILLING CONTEST

PEOPLE who look upon our ancient enemy, Musca Domestica, otherwise known as the common house-fly, as an ineradicable pest, should take hope. In Washington, D. C., twenty-seven school children, from 7 to 15 years of age, have succeeded in slaughtering 7,000,000 flies in thirteen days. Of course they were working for prizes, and the 13-year-old youngster who walked off with the first prize, of $25 claims responsibility for the slaughter of no fewer than 343,800 flies.

This is how it happened. The Washington Star, impelled by sheer philanthropy, offered a series of prizes for flies, dead or alive. No other stimulus was needed. The children went to work, hundreds of them, and for days they dumped buckets and baskets full of flies into the offices of the Board of Health where they were counted. At least the Star says that they were counted, but it doesn't say who counted them or how it was done. But it solemnly declares that the twenty-seven highest competitors actually captured 2,368,700 insects, and the grand total reached 7,000,000. The boy who won the first prize explains that his success was due to the enthusiastic co-operation of hired assistants. They used both traps and swatters, but the swatters were most effective. From early morn till dewy eve this boy and his helpers swatted flies until 343,800 of them lay prostrate at their feet.

The Star claims as a result of its crusade a comparatively flyless National Capital. It says that several sections of the city have been entirely rid of flies. Bald-headed people to whom summer has hitherto been a season of torture now enjoy life for the first time. Washington is transformed into such a pleasant place that Congress may decide not to adjourn but to prolong its session indefinitely. This is a possibility, however, the realization of which probably would cause the country to pray that every one of those 7,000,000 slaughtered flies might rise from its grave to a new and more vigorous life.

TUBERCULOSIS AND THE NEGRO

A CENSUS bulletin on tuberculosis published yesterday contains the interesting statement that 17.2 per cent of all deaths among the negroes in Maryland last year were caused by tuberculosis, while among the white population only 10.6 per cent were caused by this disease. This is merely another official confirmation of a fact already well known to the medical profession. There is no reason to suppose that conditions in Maryland differ from those in other states. Throughout the country the tuberculosis death rate among negroes is frightfully high. And it is also true that their death rate from all other causes combined is much higher than that of the whites.

If it were not that the negro birth rate is also high these figures would argue a gradual abatement of the increase of the colored population. As a race the negroes certainly are not physically inferior to the whites, unless it be in resisting power to disease. The obvious reason for their high death rate, and especially for their seeming predisposition to tuberculosis is improper sanitary conditions.

Ray Stannard Baker, the magazine writer, in his study of negro life, "Following the Color Line," made an elaborate investigation of this subject. He found everywhere, and especially in the cities, that the tendency of negroes to eat, sleep and live in houses too small for their numbers was a prolific cause of tuberculosis. He attributed this tendency not so much to necessity as to the racial love of company. As a rule the negro does not like to be alone or to live alone; he likes company and plenty of it. Mr. Baker found innumerable instances where for this reason alone two or more families would live in a house hardly big enough for one. In consequence of this condition, bad ventilation and a general lack of proper sanitation soon brought about the development of tuberculosis.

Progress toward the lowering of this death rate will necessarily be slower than among the white population. The extraordinary efforts made in the last decade have checked the increase of tuberculosis among the population as a whole, and there is every reason for believing that it will not be many years until the tide will set the other way and there will be an appreciable decline in the death rate.

FROM OTHER PENS

THE CIGARETTE MENACE.
From the Providence Journal.
Surely one of the most conspiratorial of professions, worthy of being classed with the foot who tows the boat and the man who didn't know it was loaded, is the youth who throws smoldering cigarette stumps and lighted matches promiscuously about Fourth of July celebrations in North Ashburnham, Mass., climbed to the belfry to ring the bell, and it is thought that one of them left a burning piece of a cigarette behind; at any rate, the church is now in ruins, together with five dwelling houses, a saw-mill, a barn and a shed; even the neighboring woods were set on fire. The reckless cigarette smoker is responsible for a vast, ungrateful loss of property in the United States. Is there no way to restrain him from becoming not merely a nuisance, but a menace? The airy way in which the useless end of his cigarette or the discarded match is slipped to the floor has always been an irritation to the person who does not smoke; but when valuable property is sacrificed to his carelessness it is time for something more effective than mere irritation.

UNIONS AND THE BUILDING INDUSTRY.

Better conditions for all who have anything to do with the building industries of Chicago appear to be in sight through the large representation of union labor in the reorganized Associated Building Trades. Some 50,000 workmen in 16 unions have joined the body, and the union with about 20,000 members, are said to have decided either to support it or to remain neutral. The revolt against the Building Trades council is a revolt against leadership, against methods and actions that have offended right-minded men.

RAILROAD AND EXPRESS.

From the San Francisco Chronicle.
It may be accepted as certain that the investigation now being held in due time put an end to the self-evident extortion of the great express companies.

But there is an aspect of the matter which has not been publicly discussed, and that is whether the relations of the railroads and express companies do not constitute a criminal conspiracy in restraint of trade within the meaning of the antitrust laws.

The railroads and express companies are two entirely distinct corporations which reciprocally deny responsibility for the conduct of each other.

If that is the actual relation, upon what ground does a railroad company deny to one express company facilities for transportation which it grants to another?

If a railroad agrees with an express company that it will transport for it on certain terms, and will not grant the same terms, or any terms, to another express company, is not that a conspiracy in restraint of trade?

If not, why not? In what important particular does such an agreement between a railroad and an express company differ from a similar agreement between a railroad and a steel or oil company?

In both cases it is a refusal to grant to one shipping transportation facilities, and rates which are granted to another shipper. In neither is it granting to one shipper facilities which it denies to all other shippers.

And if it should appear that by agreement with each other the four or five great express companies have conspired among themselves in an agreement not to compete in seeking business in the same territory, but on the contrary, to apportion the traffic of the country among themselves, so that each in collusion with the railroads may practice extortion, is not that a criminal conspiracy?

Extortion is one thing to be curbed by the ad-

If fruit is injured by the cold,
And apples cost their weight in gold,
We blame the altitude!

If tubercle is none too near,
And every bread is fit to eat,
If soft-balled eggs are hard as stone,
And tenderloin is mostly bone,
We blame the altitude!

If Jonathan has the stomachache,
From eating too much pie and cake;
If Henry steps on Molly's toes,
Or Peter falls and breaks his nose,
We blame the altitude!

If William smokes and Kate plays
Until their nerves are set on edge;
If Tom and Jane strong coffee drink,
Until they cannot sleep a wink,
They blame the altitude!

If Jones comes home too late at night,
And doesn't know his house by sight,
Or if he can't unlock the door,
And swears, "By Jove! he'll drink no more,"
He blames the altitude!

If Smith is mean to wife and child,
And nearly drives the poor things wild;
If Mrs. Smith bewails the day,
When she was single, young and gay,
She blames the altitude!

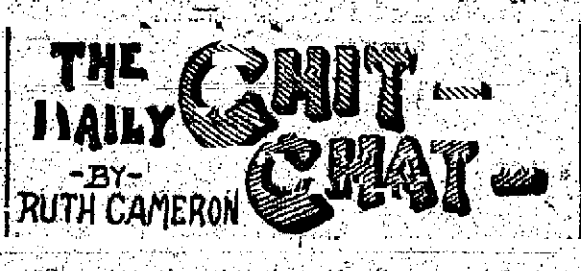

If he's too thin or she's too fat,
Or if my heart goes pit-a-pat;
If babies cry when babies teethe,
Or if we find it hard to breathe,
We blame the altitude!

If days are light and nights are dark,
If little new and drowsy bark,
If children cry and parents scold,
If young are young and old are old,
We blame the altitude!

H. E. COLTIER.

I wonder why the chiggers infect this lovely land,
And climb our shapely figures, and bite to heat the band?
In sunny hours of childhood we never heard Their name; now, in the tangled wilderness, they play their dizzy game. They cause us cruel ritzers, and agony intense; so what's the use of chiggers, and where's there any sense? I wonder why the human boogster is sleeping fairly well, Just when we're surely dreaming, and night is nearby, though the rooster starts a-dooing, his cock-a-doodledoo! And so we get up scolding, and cuss that noisy cock; why can't he do his howling at half past 10 o'clock (10:30 a. m.)? I wonder why the weather ever hits the spot? It's too coincidentally, or else too beastly hot. When we'd go aeroplaning, or camping in the woods, it's sure to be a raining some wet and sloppy goods. And if we'd have some water to help the garden aise, the sun starts in to slaughter the buds and fruit, and sings, "There's nothing really ails me, and as I'll tell my girl, until some fellow bools me and tells me to be still."

"Socrates thought that if all our misfortunes were laid in one common heap, whence everyone must take an equal portion, most persons would be content to take their own and depart."—Plutarch.
"It's a beautiful day for driving." I committed to the stable man the other morning.
He looked up from the traces he was fastening and out of the dingy stable into the world of sunshine and sweet breeze.
"It is that, ma'am," he said wistfully, "and we've had a lot of them lately."
"Do you go out much?" I asked.
The wistfulness suddenly changed into bitterness as he answered, "Do I go out much?
No, not at all, from half past five in the morning when I have to get here to feed the horses until seven at night, when I take the car home. All I see of the beautiful day is the dawn. The impact of the time I'm down there—pointing with his thumb to the basement of the stable—cleaning and feeding the horses, and then, maybe, up here for a few minutes to harness or to eat my lunch. Beautiful days and bad ones, they're all the same to me."

"Why, ma'am, I've five children and the two youngest I've secretly even seen. Of course, they aren't up before I go and before I get home they're asleep. Holidays? I don't have any. Home, how I eat and be cleaned Sundays and holidays just the same as any other time. No, ma'am, it's 365 days in the year for me."

The bitterness died out of his tone as suddenly as it came. A sense of the futility of revolt seemed to have taken its place.

"Yes, ma'am, he said, as he handed me the reins, "it is a wonderfully fine day for driving."

The stable man was very pale with the pallor of those who do not have enough sunlight—a pallor that suggested the sickness of color-raised plants.
His shoulders stooped. A heavy stubble of neglected beard covered his face. His eyes were sunken. He sent me out into the beautiful day with a shadow on my heart that the sunshine could not chase away.

For the times when you are blue
For the times when you are inclined to be discontented with your share of the world's happiness
For the days when you think that if you tried the experiment Socrates suggests you would prefer an equal portion of the whole to your own misfortune—I have this little story.

When these days come, please think of this man and be ashamed of your discontent.

Just think what his life is—or, rather, his existence! I can't see that he has any life. No Sundays to live through the week for, no holidays to look forward to—nothing.

Why does he endure such a condition—you wonder, perhaps.

Well, I suppose for five good reasons, five reasons that chamber reprobates and bare, red and sent to school. And if he complains too much, doubtless there would be another man eager for the position.

Of course, the thought of him can't cast such a dismal shadow over your heart as it did over mine, because you didn't see him.

I don't think I'd tell you if it could.
I only want to cast enough shadow to make you realize, by contrast, how bright your own life is.
Have I done that?

I thought again to find my former boy
Knowing that chamber reprobates and bare,
When, lo, as once I passed that shrouded room,
I heard a knocking there.

When you went forth that day at my command,
Unknown within I locked your memory;
I may not enter that and ghost to lay—
I threw away the key!

The Haunted House

GRANT'S OLD HOME

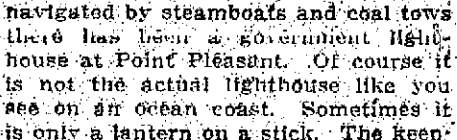

From the Washington Post.
The house in which General Grant was born at Point Pleasant in Clermont county, Ohio, has long been torn away, but the site and the foundations are there," said Hugh Nichols, Lieutenant-Governor of Ohio. "General Grant, also a native of Clermont, endeavored to persuade the Government to erect a lighthouse on the site of the Grant birthplace, and name it after the great military hero and president. Ever since the Ohio river has been navigated by steamboats and coal tugs there has been a government light-house at Point Pleasant. Of course it is not the actual lighthouse like you see on an ocean coast. Sometimes it is only a lantern on a stick. The keeper probably is paid $20 a year. The lighthouse could be made a monument to the general without adding much to the actual expense of maintenance."

THE RIGHT OF SPEECH

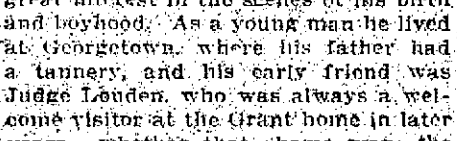

Frederick Douglass:
No right was deemed by the fathers of the government more sacred than the right of speech. It was in their eyes, as in the eyes of all thoughtful men, the great moral renovator of society and government. Daniel Webster called it a hallowed right, a free-press privilege. Liberty is meaningless were the right to utter one's thought and opinion less sacred to exist. Right of all rights, is the creed of tyrants. It is the right which they first of all strike down. They know its power. Thrones, dominions, principalities and powers, founded in injustice and wrong, are sure to tremble, if men are allowed to reason for righteousness, temperance, and of a judgment to come in their presence.

TO DRY WET SHOES

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.
To dry wet shoes stuff them full of dry crumpled newspapers. To restore stiffness to leather rub the boots or shoes that have become hard from being wet, with neat's oil or castor oil as warm as the hands will bear. Apply with a sponge and rub it in well with the fingers.

CUT GLASS
As you no doubt know is the product of artists and is not merely a mechanical production. This means that there are all kinds and qualities, and like everything else that has associated with it more than the mere mechanical production needs skill in buying. We have that skill which makes it safe for you to buy Cut Glass from us.

HARDY'S
16 NORTH TEJON STREET

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

August 10, 1881.
This was the second day of the state firemen's tournament in this city. The first event was the "dry test" for hose companies. The competing teams were to run 500 feet, attach hose to hydrant, unroll 200 feet of hose and attach nozzle. This was won by the Humphreys of Leadville in 36 1/2 seconds. The next event was the 1,000-foot race for individuals which was won by Purple of Blackhawk but was protested by others. The last event was the free-for-all straightaway which was won by the Denver Hooks in 22 1/2 seconds.

A second performance of Hazel Kille was given at the Opera house. This play was said to have had a longer run in New York than any other play in America.

Sheriff Leonard Jackson returned from Chicago with Griffith Sherwood, who had been arrested there for the local authorities.

War Will Never Cease.

Science Overlooks Many Simple Things.

Philosophy and reason are valuable assets to all. A professional piano salesman said years ago: To succeed in piano business, secure the best location in your city, at any cost, employ the best salesmen that the buying public will in nine cases out of ten buy at the first place they call. The average cost to market a piano is $65.00; the Rocky Mountain region is $115.00. The average salesman sells one piano in a month. Any house that can beat one a month for each employe is very unusual.

W. N. Kinslow, 416 Colorado avenue, Colorado City, the big piano store, with 14 different styles to select from—Grands and Players, to exchange for your silent piano, or exchanges of any kind. We want a few square pianos and organs. Remember the place and that our combined expenses are less than $100.00 a month, and that would not pay the salary of one piano salesman.

I am selling high-grade pianos for $180.00. Come and look 22 have already been convinced that this is the place to buy.

The usual piano store custom is to save you from $50.00 to $150.00. That is the old story; but I make my cut from where they leave off.

How They Forecast the Weather

From the Weather Bureau of the United States Department of Commerce.

Will you please tell me through the News Letter, in simple language, how the weather is forecast?

To this the answer is: The weather forecast is not made by looking out of the window and guessing. It is made by the use of the instruments which are used in the weather bureau.

The private individual sees the clouds settle on a nearby mountain or the rain sweep over a field. From his house and knows that the storm will be on him in a few minutes. With the aid of the telegraph the weather man sees the same storm when it is a thousand miles away, and not only the storm but every other one in the country. He knows in what direction and at what speed each is moving and can thus calculate with reasonable accuracy the approximate time when it will reach any place in its route.

Twice a day, at 8 o'clock in the morning and 8 in the evening, reports are telegraphed to Washington from about 200 observers stationed in all the different localities in the United States and Canada. In these reports the observers do not volunteer their personal opinions about what is going to happen. They confine themselves to a plain statement of the actual conditions at that particular moment, the pressure, or weight, of the atmosphere, the temperature, the direction and velocity of the wind, the amount of rain since the last report, and so forth. From this information the weather map of the United States is made up, showing the conditions that prevail in every part of the country. Since there are two maps for each day it is obvious that by comparing them the forecaster can keep track of the course and progress of both storms and periods of clear weather. From that, the next step is to predict what sort of weather will prevail for a day or two in any given locality.

This map is the basis for all scientific weather forecasting. A glance at it will show that it is divided into "high pressure areas" and "low pressure areas." These are technical terms used to describe the regions in which the weight or pressure of the atmosphere is great (high) or a little (low). At sea level the barometer, which is used to measure this weight, will register 30 inches under normal conditions of the atmosphere. When it registers more than this, say 30.5 or 31, the pressure is "high"; when 29.5 or less, "low." In this way the height of a column of mercury in a barometer indicates the weight of the air just as, in a thermometer, it indicates the temperature.

Low pressures usually mean strong winds, rain, and rising temperature. High pressures, cool, clear weather. For a region to be explained later, the "high" and "low," as they are called, travel in a general direction from west to east. The forecaster notes their progress on the map, perceives their speed and their route, and then predicts the time of their arrival at any specified point. If they traveled, like a ship, steered by compass, an exact course to the east, and if they moved invariably at the same speed, then weather forecasting would be a simple sum in arithmetic, like calculating the time when a railroad train running 60 miles an hour will arrive at a station 500 miles away. But storms are not railroad trains. They travel in an easterly direction, but they do not travel due east. Their speed is liable to change, and they are affected by the presence of other storms, by mountain ranges, large bodies of water, and many other things which make weather forecasting a complicated science. It is the "skeleton" of the "drama," however, is the progress of the "high" and "low" eastward across the country.

This progress is caused by the force of the earth and the well-known fact that hot air rises. The tropical air in the regions along the equator has great masses of air, which rise and drift toward the North and South poles. As the earth revolves from west to east these masses are carried along with it at the same speed. But, as is also well known, the equator revolves much faster than the poles, which are practically motionless.

The Second Week of Our Room Making Sale

A Sale With a Purpose A Sale That Had to Be

Did you ever notice the difference in the sale that is staged by necessity and the one just for convenience, or mere believe?

Yes No Well There is a difference, and no one knows it any better than we do. In the "Must Sell" Sales Special prices are made on everything and low enough to move them, on good goods as well as bad and indifferent.

In the Sale "of Convenience" on the bad and indifferent goods only, the class that is not worth more at any time.

Now you can safely put this in your pipe and smoke, because it is the truth. We tell the truth or we refrain from telling.

Now, don't say we don't know because we do—We have been behind the scene too long We know every rope.

We make this talk to emphasize the reality of this particular Sale, not to detract from others. We want you to shop with us. CONGRESS ADDS TO NATIONAL FOREST

Nearly 17,000 acres have just been added by act of congress to the Caribou national forest, Idaho. This is one of the first of such additions through congressional action, and is the largest so far made by direct legislation.

Those who have followed the national forest movement in this country will recall that most of the forests have been created through presidential proclamation which set aside, for timber growing or for water protection, certain areas of the public domain. In March, 1907, however, congress passed a law that no further additions should be made to the national forest areas in the states of Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Washington and Wyoming, except through congressional action.

Since July, 1909, residents of the city of Montpelier, Idaho, have been petitioning to have this 17,000 acres added to the Caribou national forest, because the area includes the watershed of the stream which furnishes the city's water supply. Not being within a national forest, the tract was given over to unregulated grazing and other uses which resulted in stream pollution and became a serious menace to health. The citizens of Montpelier, at several times subsequent to their first efforts in 1909, renewed their petition, and the act just passed represents the successful outcome of their efforts.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and luster to the hair when faded, streaked or gray, also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

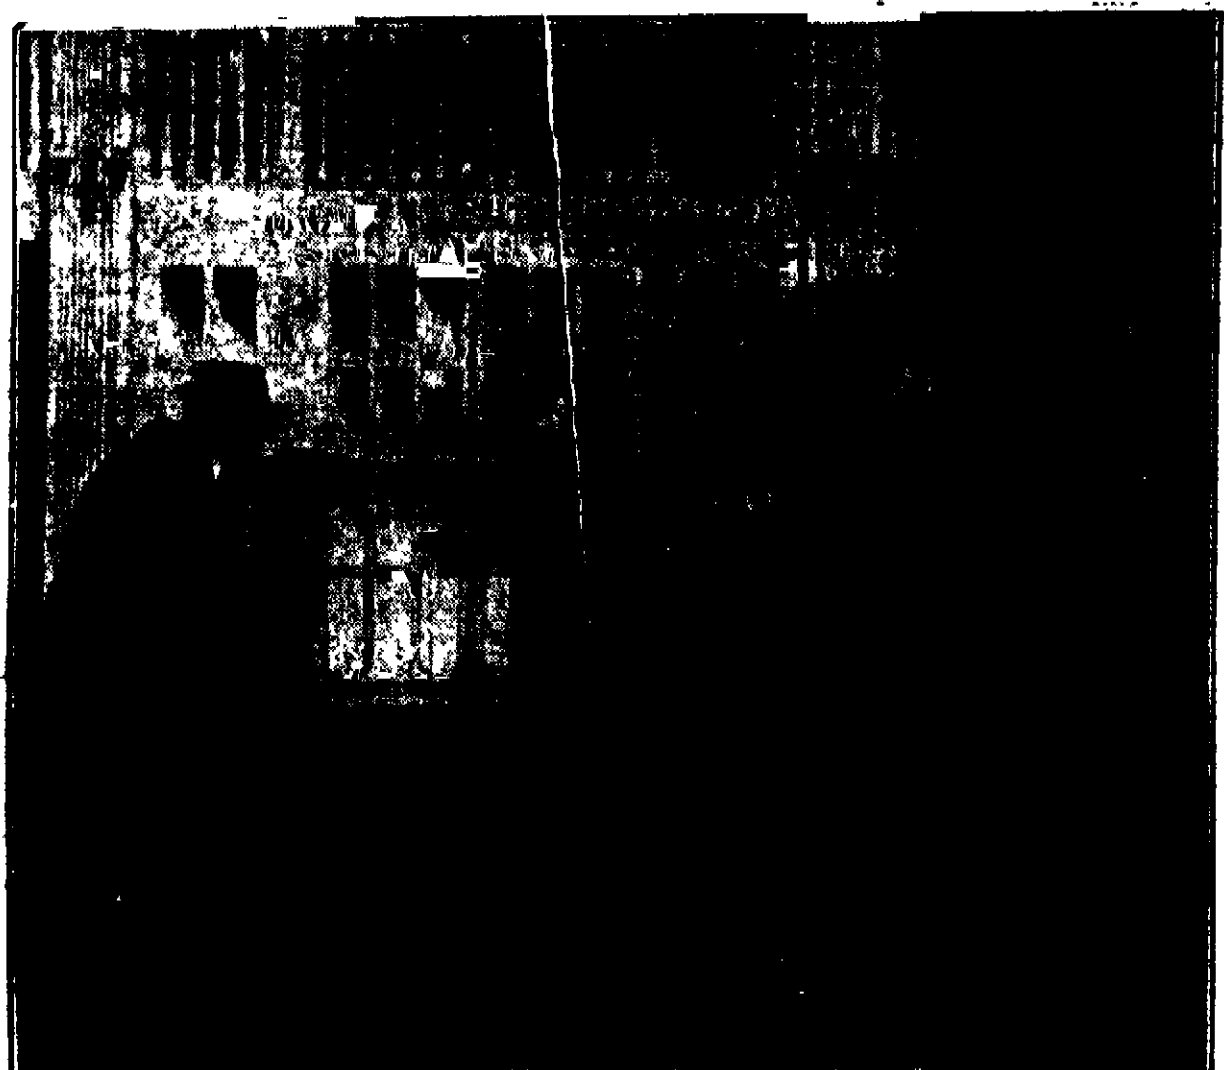

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one at a time at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. SEVEN KEYS TO BALDPATE FALL ATTRACTION SEVERAL NEW PLAYS BOOKED FOR NEXT SEASON

CYRIL SCOTT, FRANK MONROE, WILLIAM L. GIBSON AND MADALINE TRAVERSE, IN A THRILLING SCENE FROM THE FIRST ACT OF GEORGE M. COHAN'S 'SEVEN KEYS TO BALDPATE.'

Ruth Chatterton in 'Daddy Long Legs,' 'Misleading Lady' and 'Midnight Girl' Will Open Winter Season in Colorado Springs

With the present season practically at an end, managers in the east are preparing the bookings for the coming fall and winter season in the west. Colorado Springs, as usual, will have the attractions which New York and Chicago have enjoyed during the present season.

Among the early attractions arranged for a local appearance is George M. Cohan's 'Seven Keys to Baldpate,' one of the notable successes this year in both New York and Chicago. In the laughing, venturesome plot of this little comedy, which stamped Cohan as a dramatist of more than ordinary ability, the audience will find a genuine dead-in-the-earth melodrama, intentionally so, with a touch of the burlesque under a cover of seriousness that is not removed until just before the last curtain fall.

In fact, eastern cities have seen 'Seven Keys to Baldpate' in a melodramatic, a sentimental and an additional comedy, and it is not surprising that it is as delightful as it is original.

It is said that not a few have seen a combination of these scenes, and dramatic situations found their way to the stage, via an American author's pen. Mystery and thriller run rampant in Mr. Cohan's latest offering, which discloses the versatility of this genius of the drama in his most confident mood and the mystery and thriller are all the more enjoyable for the undercurrent of laughter that trails the unfolding of plot of the piece which Cohan has made into play form from the story of the same name by Earl Derr Biggers.

In its stage dress the strength of the story is accentuated by its actuality, though Cohan fools his audience to the top of his bent. At the opening of the play one learns that William Halliwell Magee, a novelist, has made a wager of $5,000 that he can write a 10,000-word story in 24 hours, the only stipulation that he makes being that he can find the 'longest' word on earth.

In a prologue Magee is discovered arriving at the advertised spot—Baldpate Inn, a summer hotel closed for the winter, and the plotline ends with the accompanying clutter of his typewriter as Magee begins his task.

At once he is surrounded by a circle of sensational incidents and for two gripping acts the audience sees Magee, the center of a gang of political scoundrels, ex-convicts, adventurers, ghosts and detectives, who thicken the plot with such adroitness that its unfolding seems well nigh hopeless, but which Author Cohan accomplishes with the cleverness born of intimate knowledge of the art of stagecraft.

In the company which is to present 'Seven Keys to Baldpate' here are the following players: Cyril Scott, John O'Hara, William L. Gibson, Spencer Charters, Walter D. Greene, Frank Monroe, I. Hooker Wright, Stanley Gimstead, Helen Lackey, Madeline Traverse, Marie Taylor and others.

Among other new attractions coming later in the season are Ruth Chatterton in 'Daddy Long Legs,' Marguerite Clark in the musical comedy 'Prunella,' Margery Pearson in 'The Midnight Girl' and Lewis Stone, in 'The Misleading Lady.'

MOVING PICTURE CENSORSHIP AS IT IS AND DANGERS IT NOW FACES THROUGHOUT NATION

National Board Is Widely Recognized; Local Activity Invariably Unsatisfactory

As the nation's attention is directed toward the problem of censorship of the United States and the danger it faces, the National Board of Censorship is widely recognized as the only body which has the right to make a decision on the matter. The board is a voluntary organization, composed of representatives of the motion picture industry and the public. It is the only body which has the right to make a decision on the matter. manifolding concern is represented in any way in the board.

For the funds necessary to carry on the work the organization is dependent on donations. Three film companies contribute toward the work regularly. They are the General Mutual and Universal. A number of wealthy citizens also contribute. The board is a voluntary organization, composed of representatives of the motion picture industry and the public. protest, it would result in a further one step, the judge of what is suitable for the country's entertainment. The fact of this nature can be passed over in considering the bill, because there are so many other vital objections. In the first place the constitutionality of the Smith-Hughes bill is decidedly doubtful. It is the opinion of many prominent legal authorities that the United States supreme court, should the bill be passed, would decide that the law violated the constitutional guarantee of the right of all persons to a free expression of their beliefs and sentiments.

The need for any censorship is growing less every year, but to do away with it entirely would not be wise just now. Yet this is virtually what would result if the Smith-Hughes bill should become a law. For logical as it may seem this attempt to improve censorship would practically do away with it. However, reluctant the film makers might be to see it happen the passage of the act would automatically kill the National Board of Censorship. This would mean that within the limits of each state there would be no check on unscrupulous manufacturers and anything could be flashed on the screen which oftentimes too indulgent police would allow. The stamp of the National Board of Censorship is now universally recognized by civic officials throughout the country as determining whether or not a film is suitable for exhibition.

The framers of the Smith-Hughes bill have without question been acting in good faith, but they have evidently not given the matter sufficient study. The pending case of the Mutual Film corporation vs. the Ohio board of censors, which will be decided by the United States supreme court, should settle the question of local censorship once and for all. The National Board of Censorship is the best solution of the national problem which has yet been conceived, even though it has many faults. Its members believe that eventually no censorship will be needed, and when that time comes the organization will disband. As it now exists it stands or falls on its own merits. To destroy it by legislation which would so inadequately provide for doing its work as the Smith-Hughes bill would be inimical to the best interests of the country. Every person interested in any way in motion pictures or in their effect should protest against the enactment of this ill-considered legislation. The national board has turned down to order, and to reverse the process is at least an ill-advised procedure.

Plays and Play

The Passing Show at the Palace is a tremendously expensive production. It is fun at first, a bit slow in the middle and has Elsie Janis at the finish, who scored the biggest hit yet registered over here by an American woman. London Correspondence Variety.

Miss Elsie Janis will return to the United States next winter and will again be a solo star. She is from all accounts immensely successful in London, where her mimicry is the most important thing in a revue called 'The Passing Show'—a title new to the London stage although used here for a time as long ago as 1904 by George W. Lederer.

Vernon Castle has written to Leon Errol, a clown in the Ziegfeld 'Follies,' to acknowledge that the latter originated the step known as the 'Castle walk.' The letter explains that the English dancer saw Errol using the step four years ago when the latter was a member of a cheap 'burlesque' company.

Edward March, the musical comedy writer of 'Fanny's Fair,' called 'Fanny's Fair' a 'fair' to be written before William Collier shows it in the Chicago or New York.

Montgomery and Stone are not to continue in 'The Lady of the Shippers' beyond the end of their present tour. A new work is in preparation for them. The authors are Anna Caldwell, Cohen, who helped to write 'The Lady of the Shippers,' which will be used next season as the vehicle of two comedians less eminent than Montgomery and Stone.

W. W. Hopper has withdrawn from the rehearsal of 'The Young Men of the Guard,' which he was to have sung in the part of Jack Pointe, the letter James F. Powers is mentioned as his successor in this latest addition to the series of Gilbert and Sullivan operas in the Powers had the part of Jack Pointe in the operetta was new in 1888.

Sam Bernard is another comedian mentioned as in revolt against his managers although the report is unconfirmed. He is playing his old part of Hogenheimer in 'The Belle of Bond Street,' which is 'The Girl From Kays,' with some new tunes and Gaby Delays in the part of the title. It is not likely that Bernard will give up his part, for he was shrewd enough some time since to buy the American rights in this musical comedy.

A Scrap of Paper, Bardonia's own favorite example of what is called the 'well made play,' will be a novelty to the present generation of American theatergoers when revived by Miss Ethel Barrymore and John Drew. It has not been acted in this country since, of course, as it may have served the week to wash purposes of some resident stock company since Mr. and Mrs. Kendal played it in the early '90s.

NEW YORK, May 2.—In many a line from two-for-a-quarter collars and tip, can't automobiles and harvesting machines, America now rules the world. And from some things Mr. Marcus Loew told me today, I conclude that Uncle Sam will soon be the globe-trotter in vaudeville.

The meteoric career of Mr. Loew has been always a matter of interest to me. In the last seven years he has almost revolutionized the popular amusement business of the United States and incidentally has built up a surprisingly large private fortune. Now he believes he can send his companies 'round the globe.'

'I have had a world circuit in mind for three years now,' said Mr. Loew. 'I leave soon to look over the British vaudeville situation and will go from there to South Africa, Australia, New Zealand and the Hawaiian islands, completing a tour of the globe.'

'I hope soon to be able to offer performers 28 weeks in Australia, 10 or 12 weeks in South Africa, about four weeks in New Zealand and a short stay in the Hawaiian islands, with a tour of England added.'

'Of course I realize it would be impossible to send to these countries the same vaudeville shows which tour my American circuit, so I plan to put several English acts and more acrobatic and 'tough' acts in my companies when I send them around the world.'

At the present time Mr. Loew organizes in New York his 'road shows' consisting of six vaudeville acts and a big feature photoplay, which go on a 40-week tour of his American circuit. He has recently made arrangements to display the Hearst-Selig reel of interesting news events.

With his purchase of the 47 houses in the Sullivan-Condittine circuit, he now has 117 houses in the United States and Canada.

He will shortly build a chain of theaters through northwest Canada connecting his Vancouver house with his Winnipeg and Toronto houses. His road show would then start from New York by way of northwest Canada and leave Montreal for England going from there to South Africa, Australia, New Zealand and the Hawaiian islands.

'THE SHEPHERD KING'

Many leading Catholics were present Monday evening when 'The Shepherd King,' with William Farnum in the role of David, commenced a two weeks' engagement at the Garden theater.

The play is being given for the benefit of the United Catholic Works, composed of Catholic organizations of every nationality in the archdiocese of New York. The Emmet Colligan Producing company is giving the performance and the play is staged by Mr. Corrigan.

'The Shepherd King' is a play in four acts fashioned largely from the biblical story of David. It was this dramatization which served as a vehicle for the late Wright Luther. The play has not been seen in this city for several years. It had a long run at the Knickerbocker in 1904.

William Farnum is a young actor who is improving rapidly. I saw him in 'The Little Rebel' and 'Ben Hur' and his work grows constantly better. He was supported by Robert McWade as Saul, Edward Mackay as Jonathan and Virginia Hadley as Michal. Daniel Ryan, whose proportions are enormous, was Goliath.

'THE GHOST BREAKER'

The attractions at the Academy of Music this spring are especially good. Henry R. Warner is the third Broadway favorite to appear with the Academy Stock company. He will be remembered for his splendid work in the title role of 'Alas, Jimmy Valentine,' and more recently 'The Ghost Breaker.'

The latter was the vehicle chosen for his appearance Monday.

DRAMA LEAGUE'S SELECTIONS.

The seven wonders of the world, the 10 greatest inventions, the 10 greatest men, the college boys' selections of their favorite this and that—what is the eternal charm in such compilations? I don't know—but I am sure none of us ever fails to peruse such a list diligently, even feverishly.

Of all the many organizations designed to prod or to cajole the commercial theater to a higher level, the Drama League is distinguished by one practical feature of great importance: its bulletins are virtual commands. When a playgoer receives a merely recommending bulletin that says, 'things about a play he may go or he may not just as he happens to feel about it. But the members of the Drama League hold their very membership by virtue of their agreement to attend the 10 bulletined plays of the year, and most of them have paid in advance the appearance of the new play on the society's list is an assurance.

William A. Brady remarks that 'Too Many Cooks' is one of the very rare stage offerings within his long and exceptionally active career. In management that seemed predestined to success. 'Fanny' once in a while but not often, says Mr. Brady, 'a play comes along which hits the public fancy even before the people have had a chance to pass upon its merits. In these infrequent instances it seems to be in the air that the particular entertainment about to be presented is just the thing for the time. There is no accounting for this state of things unless one believes in telepathy or magnetic influence, or some other intangible process of course. After 'Too Many Cooks' was produced and had made its hit, it was simple enough to explain the large audience, but what was it that drew a turn-away crowd to the premiere in a one-night town? Tell me that and you will dispel one of the most interesting of the many mysteries in theatrical management.'—New York Clipper.

Steele Team Clinches Title in First Division

The first division championship in the Grammar School league has been clinched by the team from the Steele school, although three more games remain to be played. The winning game was played Friday afternoon when the champs defeated the Liller nine, 16 to 6. Long, who has done the pitching work for the Steeles, has shown exceptional form for such a young player.

The feature of Friday's game was the hard hitting of Capt. Koke. Price and Long for Steele and Murdock for Liller. The batteries were: Steele—Long and Price; Liller—Murdock and Jones.

CORNELL SPRINGS A SURPRISE, WINNING FROM HARVARD TEAM

Crimson Decisively Defeated in Meet Sensational in Many Events

Yale Sweeps Field in Track Program With Princeton; Score, 87 to 16

ITHACA, N. Y., May 9.—One of the greatest track victories that a Cornell team has ever achieved on Percy field was witnessed today when Coach Mackley's men decisively triumphed over Harvard by 52.5 to 41.5. Cornell won eight firsts, while the Crimson took four.

Spelden and Souder, both of Cornell, ran a sensational race in the mile event. Within one hundred yards of the finish Souder passed Spelden and the finish was exciting. Spelden exhibited a wonderful burst of speed and beat his teammate to the tape by a yard. Time, 4:38.

Bingham of Harvard hung up a new local track record in the quarter-mile with the time of 48.45 seconds. He beat Caldwell of Cornell by an inch.

After leading in the 220-yard dash, Van Winkle of Cornell fell and Barron of Harvard won. Time, 24.45. The pole vault was a brilliant exhibition. Milton and Fritz, both of Cornell, tying for first place at 12 feet 4 1/2 inches.

Three Cornell men and two Harvard men tied for first place in the high jump at 5 feet 8 1/2 inches and divided the points.

Hoffmire and Potter, Cornell runners, had things all their own way in the two-mile, after wearing down their opponents with a telling stride. Cornell also decisively excelled in the eight events. Potter's time, 9:41.48.

BLUE ATHLETICS TAKE 12 FIRSTS; SURPRISE IN MILE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 9.—Yale won the annual track meet with Princeton on Yale field today with unexpected ease, 87.5 to 16.5 points. The Blue athletes literally swept the track and field, taking 12 first places, while the Orange and Black took only one. Princeton was weak in the field, getting only one and three-fifths of a point in the entire five events. The Blue won every point in the hammer throw, broad jump, high jump, 220-yard hurdles and 160-yard dash.

One of the surprises of the meet was the one-mile run, which was won by Mackenzie of Princeton in 4:24.3. Poucher, who last week broke the Yale record in the event, was generally counted upon to win, but he made a poor start and was unable to overcome Mackenzie's lead.

GELDING WINS RICH DERBY STAKE FIRST TIME IN 26 YEARS

Old Rosebud, Kentucky Pony, Races Under Wire Eight Lengths Ahead

$10,000 Goes to Winner of Louisville Classic; New Record

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 9.—For the first time in 26 years and the fourth time in 49 years history of the race, the Kentucky derby was won by a gelding, when Old Rosebud, owned by H. C. Applegate & Co. of Louisville, and ridden by J. McCabe, raced under the wire in the event at Churchill Downs track today a victor by about eight lengths. Hodge, owned by K. Spence of Missouri, was second and Bronze Wing, owned by A. P. Humphrey, Jr., of Louisville, was third. Old Rosebud was a 10-to-5 favorite.

Old Rosebud, the son of Uncle of Ivory Belles, also established a new track and derby record for a mile and a quarter, making the distance in 2:03.8-5 over a track considered fast. The former derby and track record of 2:04.4-3 was made by Donahill, last year's derby winner.

The running of the derby was the feature of the opening day of the Churchill Downs spring meeting. Last night's rain was succeeded by a day of sunshine, which placed the track in better condition than expected. Eleven track "sear-olds" were on the card as starters but only seven went to the post. Old Rosebud led from the barrier with Hodge and Old Ben well up and Bronze Wing trailing. On the backstretch Hodge tried to move up, but McCabe let Old Rosebud on the favorite's heels and he shot ahead, increasing his lead to the finish. John Gaud moved into third place and made a bid to be considered, but in the stretch Bronze Wing caught him and took third easily. In addition to the horses mentioned, Watermelon and Surprising also ran.

The derby purse, with $10,000 added money, aggregating $18,350, the richest stake in the history of the race, of this amount approximately $10,000 went to the winner.

PENN LOSES STAR 220 MAN IN DEFEATING DARTMOUTH

Lippincott Sprains Tendon and Will Be Kept Out of Intercollegiate Meet; Easy Victory

PHILADELPHIA, May 9.—The University of Pennsylvania track team defeated Dartmouth today in the annual meet by 64 points to 22. Pennsylvania paid the heaviest of penalties because Donald Lippincott, the intercollegiate 220 yard champion and holder of the world's record, was seriously hurt. He was running the field at the 76-yard mark in the 100 yard dash when he suddenly faltered and staggered to one side of the track. He was carried to the emergency room and was found to have sprained a tendon. The accident probably will keep Lippincott out of the intercollegiate meet. Pennsylvania won eight first places taking a very flat race but the quarter mile.

Rothgeb Pleased With Teams

Coach Rothgeb's frisky track and baseball men yesterday made a clean sweep of the all-day sport carnival at Washburn field with athletes from the Colorado Agricultural college as opponents. Except for a brief intermission, Colorado college youths spent the entire day from 10:30 a. m. to 5:15 p. m. ringing up victories for their alma mater, the majority of which were gained with less effort than had been expected. The track meet ended with a score of 81 to 36 and the ball game with the score of 11 to 3. What was three weeks ago a crumpling, wrecked track team, is today giving promise of being a strong contender for conference honors this year. A number of the runners have been training hard, and yesterday's exhibits showed progress that is going to make the best of them all work hard to win. Even at that, with both dual meets of the year, as yet, the locals are certain of second place, at least. While the records of a majority of the events yesterday were far below some of the runners who were not at home in the quarter mile. With the exception of the relay, the high hurdles, and the 220-yard dash, the locals took first in every event, and in five portions of the program, two both first and second place. Mack Davis was individual star, with 17 points taking first in the pole vault and discus, second in the shot put and hammer, and third in the high jump with cover. The high star did not extend himself in any of his events, but apart from the team to look first in the hammer and shot put, in reality the Aggie's were out of the winners of the eight events. The hammer being awarded second to the hammer thrower, a mark was made at that time. The little made a loss that was his, but he did not get his time on the event.

JACKSON INVINCIBLE IN PINCHES AND IS AIDED BY SOME MIGHTY FINE PEGGING

LOSS OF RAGLE MEANS THROWING BURDEN OF ALL PITCHING ON "STONEWALL," KRAMER AND MANN STAR IN PEGS; RUNDALH GET'S POOR SUPPORT.

Before the record crowd of the season and with a box office sun shining like old times the Tigers yesterday afternoon defeated the Colorado Aggies for the second time this season and put themselves at the front of the conference race. The score was 11 to 3 and fairly sizes up the strength of the two teams.

Coach Hughes' potato miners have never won from the Colorado Tigers in recent years and unless they put up a more human exhibition of baseball than they did yesterday afternoon they never will. These good citizens of pastoral Fort Collins, preparing to wipe out the stain of past defeats, had been grooming one "Swede" Rundahl, a C. C. refugee of last year, for pitching duty. Rundahl pitched his best stuff and at times it was effective, but his teammates erred at the most improper occasions, largely through poor judging of fly balls and weak pegging. Coupled with the cannonading of the Tigers at times when his could be turned into runs, the Aggie pitcher had a difficult and unpleasant afternoon.

The warm weather was a few degrees too warm for Jackson, whose control was not of his usual topnotch variety. Five men were given bases on balls and one was cracked on the elbow, but had it not been for errors by Evans and Heffner, the enemy would not have been able to score. Although Jackson gave a number of bases on balls he was striking out Farmers quite regularly throughout the session.

Expert throwing by Kramer and Mann halted more than one base runner and not a stolen base can be credited to the visitors. Kramer nipped three base ones while Mann made a line throw from deep right field that cut off a runner at the plate.

The Tigers lost their star utility pitcher, pitcher-infielder-outfielder—one Sunshine Ragle—by an accident and it is now entirely up to Jackson to handle the peculiar position of pitcher. In the second inning, Ragle hit a graceful punch through Helbeck and on the hit-and-run stuff per C. J. Rothgeb took second, with a slide. His left ankle caught in the soft earth and he had to be carried from the field.

A small bruise on the ankle was broken and the player had to be carried off. The Aggie's were disappointed in the loss of Ragle, but they could not do anything about it.

Coach Rothgeb gave his young hopefuls considerable practice yesterday in the hit and run and sacrifice hit features of four national frolic. When a tiger could get on base he was pretty sure of getting to another because of the lack of the batters.

In the fifth, Culp singled to left field and Mann, attempting to sacrifice him, bunted a popup fly, which resulted in doubling "Julius" at first before he could scramble back.

In the sixth the Aggies filled the bases again, but no runs resulted. Helbeck singled and McCluskey caused Evans to make his first error of the season. Ricketts hit one to Jackson, who threw out McCluskey at second. The farmer ran into Heffner and the double play was spoiled. Coach Hughes, believing that port bait would be more effective than right-handers, sent Walsh to bat for "Curly," but he missed three straight strikes.

Didn't Touch First. In the seventh Lamb opened things auspiciously by cueing a three-cushion shot into right field. In his mad race around the bases he failed to touch first and Harper happened to see the misdeed. Altmsted also found Jackson for an extra base hit, stretching him into a double but was caught at the plate on Mann's perfect peg after Antles had singled into right field.

The home boys scored one in the seventh when Mann singled, stole second and crossed the plate on E. Jackson's hit to right field.

In the eighth Evans bobbled Forestman's grounder, the runner going to second on Helbeck's hit to right field, to third on a passed ball and scoring on McCluskey's right field hit that also brought in Helbeck. The next three batters were disposed of easily.

Two in Eighth. The Tigers were dangerous again in the eighth when Duke beat out a hit to second. Kramer was walked and J. Jackson sacrificed both runners. Culp scored his teammates by a single to center field, but died on base when Mann's high fly was caught.

The Aggies scored one in the ninth Rundahl was given a life on Heffner's error and Altmsted was walked. Antles struck out and Forestman whanged a fielders' choice that allowed the pitcher to score. Forestman was caught at second, Kramer to Heffner, and Helbeck went out via the Evans-Culp route.
